We Took The TIME

The numbers on the clock indicated that it was 6:30 in the morning. For three months Warren High students had seldom been awakened before 10:00. Why was that horrible alarm going off at 6:30? Quick, hit the snooze button! Today was September 9, the first day of the 1987-1988 school year. Could the summer have really gone by that quickly? It always does!

The first day of school was the usual chaos, with students trying to find their classes, their lockers and their minds which they had lost sometime over the summer (maybe they had melted in the sun?)

The year started off with a ... shake. On October first many of the students at Warren thought that the world was over, while other students were anticipating a shortened day of school, as the earth began to move under thei feet. The students that had dressed up for Downey Dork Day felt pretty silly, considering the outfits they were wearing. Mr. Davis, our new vice principal, joined our faculty on the day of the quake. What a welcoming! October first was also the middle of Warren - Downey week. This festive week consisted of a B.Y.O.B. (Bring Your Own Bear) Day, a Fifties Day, a Hawaiian day, Downey Dork Day and Blue-and-Gold Day. Also this year on the day of the game, the students ordered a plane carrying a banner which read "Bears Whip Ducks: Film at Eleven." to fly over both Warren and Downey High. Hopefully the students at Downey saw it. This year's football team did a great job and the Bears won 35-3.

Soon after our victory over Downey, we played our Homecoming Game. At half-time, Jacquie Brown was announced Homecoming Queen and Darius Turner was announced Homecoming King. We won our Homecoming Game against Paramount, 37-21. This year the Homecoming Dance was held in the Marina Ballroom at the Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim. The expense of the limos, tuxes, and gowns was worth it so we could all feel like royalty for an evening.

On December eleventh it was time for another dance - Snow Blitz. The dance was held in the school cafetorium. To everyone's surprise Santa Claus came to visit, and gave everyone rings. Pictures were taken and the basketball team joined us at the dance after defeating at their game that evening.

Christmas Vacation went by quickly and soon we found ourselves in a new year, 1988. As the year started the semester ended and we were all faced with the agony of taking finals. Of course, the weather was perfect for the beach and many students asked what would happen if they didn't show up for the final in certain classes - "You will fail," was usually the answer.

PENNY FOR YOUR THOUGHTS.

To SURVIVE October 1st

The new semester began and students had to adjust to their new schedules. Once again students struggled to locate their minds (had they left them on the ski slopes?)

Mr. Harcharik, our new principal, was officially introduced to the students in February at the same time the new student council took their oath.

Both our boys and girls basketball teams had great seasons. "The Den" seemed to make Warren have a great deal of school spirit, which had not been seen for a few years.

The new student council started a system to find out the student body's ideas. Each second period class elected two representatives to voice their opinions about possible solutions to problems around campus. The first problem dealt with was the litter. The suggested solution was "Trash for Music". Several trash cans marked with different radio stations were placed around campus and a D.J. from the station which was on the filled can, came to play at lunch.

It is now March, the Sadie Hawkins dance is coming up, and the theme has become somewhat of a problem. Letter Woman's Club decided to have "Sadie goes Toga" but some students feel it would be a shame to break the tradition of Sadies being country. They have started a petition and feel that the student council can organize a Toga dance some other time. Will students decide to break tradition?

Spring Break is coming up soon and Warren High students will be spending it in many different ways: some will be traveling, some relaxing at home but whatever we do we will enjoy our two weeks off thoroughly. Soon after vacation our minds will turn to visions of Prom and Graduation.

Prom will be the ultimate goal for all underclass girls while for Seniors it is a definite must. We will build up prom so much in our minds that to have any idea of what it will be like in reality will be next to impossible. Seniors will also be trying to decide where they will go on their graduation trip or how to talk their parents into letting them go on a graduation trip.

While all of this was going on the members of the staff of the El Oroso were trying to capture it all on film or paper. Trying to get it organized and have it all fit together. Coming in on weekends, staying out of other classes, running to Pace or Fromex to pick 'up another batch of desparately needed pictures, and every once in awhile sneaking to El Taco or some other fast food place for a forbidden, but we feel a deserved special lunch. The layouts were drawn, most of the pictures were taken, some of the copy was written, but it wasn't getting done, so . . . plan more deadlines, stay out of class longer, forget lunch we don't have time!! TIME - there are 24 hours in a day, 1,440 minutes but what does that mean if nothing gets accomplished?

"SAY NO TO DRUGS, DRINK COKE."
Victor Paredez, wants to join in the fight against drugs.

In the middle of all this confusion, there was a dance. The first dance to be held outside here at Warren and, some say, it was the best dance we've ever had! It was called the "Rocka-Hula-Luau". Anyway, we took the time and got something done, although it took a lot of effort and we often felt we were the only ones who cared, we created the thirty-second volume of the El Oroso and we are pretty proud of it! Now we hope you will take the time to enjoy it!

TIME To Grow Up

Although one might think that being a senior is just all fun and games, it isn't. It is actually a time of relentless pressure and stress. Just when I thought the hardest years of high school were over, I realized that the senior year is unique in its difficulties — college applications, job applications, tests-and-more-tests, decisions,decisions, decisions . . . And, that's not all. Most of us are planning to go to college so that it will look better on our job applications for jobs which make $100,000 per year — starting pay, but before we can begin to apply for the jobs, we have to apply to college. To me, applications are just basically a major pain in the derriere. I suppose that's the way it goes, however. One must gather up every bit of information about his or her high school career. "What's my G.P.A.? my class rank?" are the questions most commonly asked by seniors of their counselors. One can guess that by this time his or her counselor is sick of the student's face. But that's okay because the counselors always told us that they're here for us, and they probably expect us to ignore them until our senior year. It's really a shame that I haven't gotten to know all of my classmates. I like others, have fallen into a clique of friends, but we seniors share something in common. Come June we will be graduating and God only knows if we'll ever meet again. With that reality comes insecurity. No longer can we feel safe among the familiar faces, classrooms, and hallways, It's time we grow up.

8 Kinds of problems a SENIOR faces

Christy Bauer can't figure out who Carolyn Shepard is talking about.

Seniors face many problems throughout their last school year. Friends are a major problem, because they really don't know who is their friend. When they were young all their friends seemed to be true friends, as they got older their friends started to change and they got new friends. Everyone was going there separate ways, when they finally found new friends, people acted different, they couldn't tell if they were true friends or not, who can they trust? Seniors have a lot of pressure, because they have a lot of decisions to make. Are they going to a 4 years college, a 2 year college, or are they going to work in a gas station for the rest of their lives? Now is the time to start making the major decisions that could effect the rest of your life. Now is the time to become responsible, because they're adults now and it's time to go out in the real world and put their life together. It's time to move out of the house and buy a small apartment. They need space so they can study and give it all they've got. It's time to find new friends and to go your separate ways from others, it's time to be on your own. Though there are many problems that a senior faces, they can survive through it all.

On the first day of my senior year, I remember vividly that I promised myself that I would make it the best year and it would be recorded in my memory book for eternity. As times have gone by, I am facing so many obstacles that cause my goal to be achieved very arduous. The worst problem is the fact that I must take the SAT and the Achievement test in order to attend the most prestigeous University I can possibly attend, and must study for them. I have been studying for the past 3 years, and I didn't expect to study during my senior year, but, unfortunately it didn't turn out that way. I'm studying more than ever, only sleeping 4 or 5 hours per day. I just hope that I get some benifits from studying. Another obstacle that is very hard to break through with my own strength, is the money dilemma. I hate asking my parents for money for Homecoming and Prom. Just to go to the Prom, I have to get a part-time job, which will hamper my studying. I don't know the solution to this problem. I think I just have to push it as hard as I can, instead of breaking it. However, I am having fun attending my last year of high school.

—Seung Kwak

We're getting out of THIS place

As seniors, we rejoice over the fact that this is our last year. A common statement is, "We're going to get out of (Bleep) school." However, the scary part is what will happen after we leave Warren High. After putting off the decision of our future careers we must now decide so that a good college will accept us. We must take SAT's to measure our mental abilities or perhaps our disabilities. We also must decide which colleges we would prefer to attend and fill out applications before the deadlines. Then there are the mental worries: "Will they accept me or will I end up at Cerritos College?"

My biggest problem as a senior is procrastination. I always wait until the last minute to do everything. For one thing I still haven't taken my SAT. I got the forms weeks ago, filled them most of the way out but still haven't mailed them and their due in two days. I also haven't filled out any college applications or even chosen a college I'm interested in. Take it from me, Don't procrastinate. Do all your SAT's and college APPS as soon as possible. Trying to do it all in a few weeks is just too hard and in the long run it's not worth it.

—Shayn Guin

S.A.T. test can make or BREAK your future

One problem about being a senior is that many of us must take the SAT Test. This test will probably determine whether or not a student can get into a good college. Most of the time, if one has respectable grades he or she will have a good chance at getting into a good college. This test can determine ones future. If one does bad on the test, he or she might not be accepted into a college. The pressure is there for the seniors who want to make a success out of their life. Bombing the SAT can be a fate worse than death. The SAT is only one of the many problems a student must face.

For three years, I looked forward to my opportunity to be Editor in Chief of the newspaper during my senior year. I dreamed, planned, and waited my turn - and finally that fateful last year arrived. I found myself exactly where I wanted to be - in control. And suddenly I discovered an entirely new angle - there's alot more to this editor business then first meets the eye: the responsibility, the hastle, the long trips to the printshop every other week became even bigger nuisances when I had to do them. It's a good thing I wasn't all by myself. Whenever the preassure seemed too much - I had the shoulder of my Co-editor to lean on for support. And through all the pain, all the arguments, all the nearly missed deadlines - we actually had some fun: learning to compromise and to "take a joke". On the whole, it was a good year - we accomplished most of what we set out to do, broke a few rules in the process, and left behind a reputation for future Editor's to live up to. Is it any wonder Ms. K always seemed to be dangerously close to going over the edge? Maybe it's for the best the year is finally over, we seem to be having too much "fun" for our own good. Now we can sit back and let someone else worry, . . . and struggle, . . . and run around in circles. This last "post mortem" is finished.

—Paula White

It's sometimes too much FUN and then it's not

I thought my senior year was going to be the best yet, but obviously not so, my schedule - Physics, Advanced Writing, French 4, Honors Government, AP Calculus - isn't helping me at all! The most important of my pressures, though, is those applications for college. Everythings just piled on me now. An essay for this, an essay for that, it's absolutely endless; so I might take a few brakes on weekends to be with friends, but the thoughts of homework and school never leave my mind. High school can be fun but it's sometimes too much excitement for me. They tell me college is worse! Boy, I can't wait . . .

I guess the saddest thing about my senior year was knowing that after graduation, I probably would never see many of my friends again. Most of my friends applied to universities in various parts of California and the east coast. I knew that the university I wanted to go to would take me away from Downey. "Keeping in touch" would seem too hard. Not seeing them again was a reality that many of us had to face. All of them would grow older, change, and experience new things. I think the only thought that comforted me was knowing our reunion was only ten years away!

—Georgia Lacaba

The deadlines never seem to End for me

Kristen Wathan and Debbie Canning present Mr. Spruston with a gift from Student Council as he leaves Warren.

The hardest thing of being a senior is the deadlines. There is pressure everywhere. From the day school started we, seniors, have been filling out applications, writing essays for scholarships and admission to colleges, and in addition to that, we still have to deal with the reports and essays of our six classes. Each week that passes by seems to get harder; more work due in a month. A month doesn't seem very long either. November passes, there are still pressures of deadlines; micro-reports, scholarships, replies to colleges and financial aid and housing form. Deadlines, deadlines, deadlines, they will never end!

My two years as a SENIOR could be interesting

- ☐ Registering for the S.A.T./A/C.H. tests
- ☐ Meeting after the football game at MacDonalds
- ☐ Wanting to leave school before the day begins
- ☑ Knowing that the "Class of '88" is the best

- ☐ Waiting for GRADUATION!!!
- ☐ Planning for Prom without going broke
- ☐ Deciding what to do after high school

My senior year has been wild fun through the bottom of each month so far. I'm having such a good time that I'll probably be a senior next year, too. My parents are really proud of me. They know I'm happy and how I feel is more important then how I do in school. If I graduate, or even if I don't, my wonderful parents will buy me a shiny, new Jaguar which they insist on paying insurance for, also. I'm looking forward to my car and my life. But, I'm mostly excited about my two senior years in high school.

—Brent Leininger

It's great being on TOP but it's scary

Carrie George models a man-hunting look for us

Ever since my freshman year, I've looked for the time that my friends and I were the "big cheese." That is the once-in-a-lifetime senior year. I have come to find out that this year is probably the most stressful year I've yet to experience. Decisions used to be easy; now because some involve my future, they are not so easy to make. Applying for colleges, taking and re-taking the S.A.T., meeting all college prep classes, scholarships and worst of all trying to decide what makes me happy — all are the tough ones. I would be kidding you if I said I'm not having fun. It's great being on top, just scary to think what comes after being on top!

Not all its cracked UP to be

Being a senior is not all it is cracked up to be. Seniors have a lot of problems to deal with. We have tons of things to worry about such as college applications, car insurance, money, prom, and the list goes on. The number one thing on the list is getting the application done. There are deadlines we have to meet and laziness is naturally in our blood, so obviously there is a problem. Money is another problem seniors have to take care of. As seniors, we want to have as good a time as possible before we become "responsible adults," and that involves having a lot of money. To go out and have fun, one needs a car and that is where the insurance comes in. The senior prom is also an event that won't be too easy on the old pocket book. We can't avoid the problem by not going because it is an unwritten rule that seniors have to go to prom. Being a senior is not as easy as you may think, so juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, have a ball.

—Ahn Deo

We love every MINUTE of it

Basically, the only suprising aspect of being a senior is just how tiring it can be. The previous three years here, I constantly heard the seniors of that year discuss nothing but their social activities that were planned for the future. Therefore, I assumed that my senior year would be the most relaxing of my high school career. I was wrong! The average senior has numerous preasures he must face every day. The most consuming of which is college. The immense task of deciding which college to apply to. The filling out and completing the application (the worst part of the "College Process"). How to finance college. The tests that must be taken for college. Which college to attend if accepted to more than one. And, finally, getting over the fear of going to college. In addition to all of this, a senior must keep his grades up (despite Senioritis), the monetary pressure of financing some form of transportation, and, most important, the foreboding realization of becoming an adult and the responsibilities that accompany that fact. Add in an extra-curricular activity, a job and the duties at home, and being a senior is both demanding and exhausting. But, I love every minute of it!!!

Seniors gather during their lunch break to pose for a picture in the bleachers. The senior picture has become a popular favorite for the Senior Section over the past few years and this year is no exception. The class of '88 is proud.

In time one can become ADULT with ease

One of the problems seniors face are the mental burdons due to the process of becoming an adult. Most of the students of age seventeen or eighteen start to feel their responsibilities toward the family, society, and themselves. They recognize the change in attitude from the outside. No one treats them as they did a year before nor hastles them for a slight offence. Thus, the senior is often times perplexed buy this abrupt change. In addition, they anticipate anxiously how they have to cope with the "real life", which is often described as "combat" or "survival of the fittest". The ones who feel themselves inferior to others in competition know that their life will be as strenuous and burden stricken. In fact, there is no tangible solution to this problem. However, the one thing the seniors can do is learn more spirit through confidence. The positive motivation can only be a cure for their "black future".

A big problem for some female seniors, as in the eyes of my high school graduate sister, is deciding which shoes to wear on the night of your graduation excerises. It can be a baffeling situation deciding on whether to have comfort or beauty. On your graduation night you get all prettied up and buy a gorgeous new dress, you have the perfect shoes to add just the right touch, yet they're three inch heels. You also have the choice of wearing your white casual loafers, a wise decision, considering that you're going to Disneyland immediately afterwards and you plan on walking 2,387 miles. Somehow it doesn't sound very chic. What's a girl to do in this ulcer causing situation

There are many things one must do, when one's a senior yes this is true.
Planning for college and planning for life, feeling the pressure that cuts like a knife.
The Achievement tests and the SAT, makes one's senior year as hard as climbing a tree.
Deciding which college one chooses is tough, cause a wrong choice right here makes your future years rough. Homecoming, prom,
Warren vs. Downey, the last ones you'll see,
makes leaving high school too much for me.
The peer pressure is great for a good many things, like dressing properely or going out on a date. A major problem for seniors these days, is alcohol and drugs-So Just Say No!!

Take Time To Adjust To All The Changes.

One of the problems of being a senior is the fear of leaving school and being on our own in the world. Until we graduate, we live in a sheltered world, constantly being protected from the evils out there. We go through elementary school, junior high, and high school with the same friends, never alone. Most of the time, when we leave high school, we leave our friends, go to a different college, and have to start over again. It might take a while to overcome the fear but with time, we can make new friends who seem like they've been our friends for years and years. It takes time to adjust, but with time, anyone can.

Hold Your HEAD High

The Warren Bears play a variety of sports throughout the school year. Through the season each sport plays a variety of different schools in the San Gabriel Valley League. To be a good athlete, one must be dedicated, disciplined and ready for the bad along with the good. One must be willing to stay after school and give up some free time to be a winning team. It takes a lot of hours of hard work, patience, and understanding to have a good year. However, playing a sport is also a lot of fun. Team members get closer with their old friends as well as making new friends. Every team has their dream of being League Champions, while every individual has their dream of making C.I.F., but win or lose Warren High's Athletes will always keep their heads high. Coaches and trainers, as well as athletes, take the time to give their best to reach their highest goals. And the athletes do just that. They not only set their goals, but meet and surpass them. This Year for example, our football team was almost a wild card team in C.I.F., our football team slaughtered Downey, and our tennis team came close to making C.I.F. We would like to thank everybody for their support throughout the year. We are proud of all of Warren's athletes and teams. The fine job that they did in competition and the sportsmanship they showed throughout the year deserves a big round of applause.

WARREN CROSS COUNTRY DOES IT AGAIN. Carrie Edgeworth and Cathy Nyman show their determination as they pass another runner.

Confident Not Cocky CREATES Chemistry.

The intensity level in this game can't be matched by any other sport. Before the game on Fridays, all the messing around is put to rest. Each and every player has his own way of getting ready to play. At around 7:00 the adranalin starts to flow and that's when the fun starts.

In the Downey game we blew them out. Everyone thought that we were getting cocky and that our heads were too big, but we were just confident because we knew we had a good team.

We had the second best record ever here at Warren High, which was 7-3 overall. We had a great deal of pride in what we did. Most of the time we got along with the coaching staff, although there were those times. The time and effort we put into this sport made us the best that we could be.

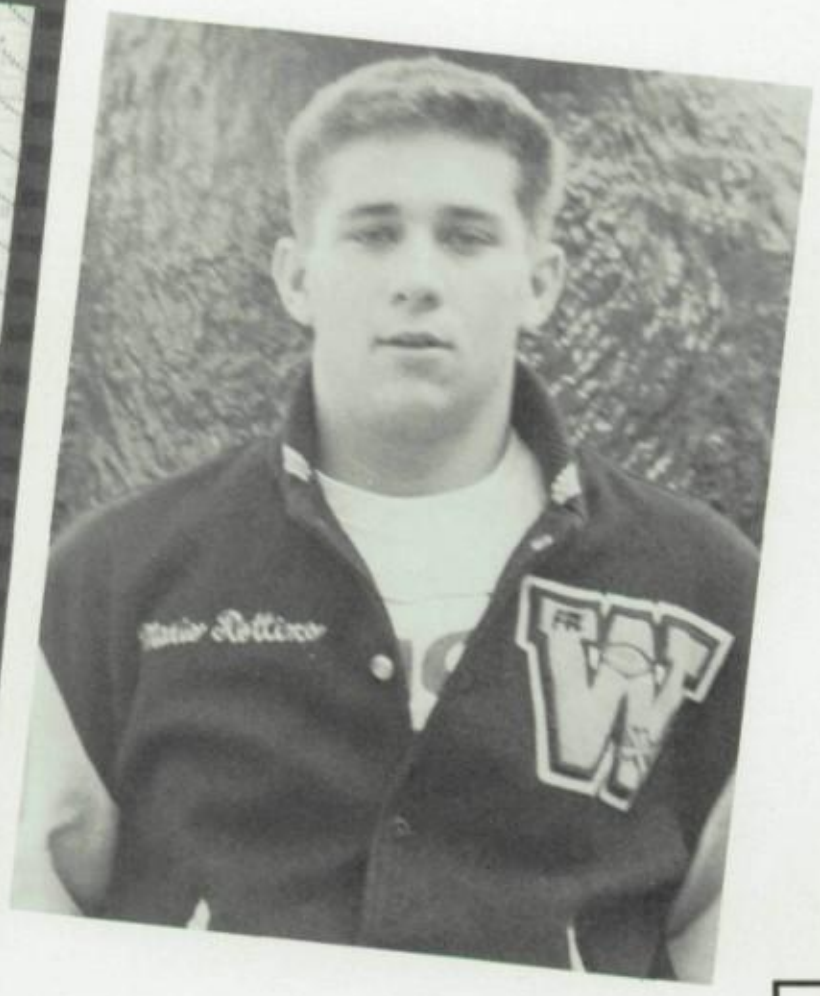
J.V. and freshmen football turned out to be a winning and new experience. Probably playing, working, and doing what I love best with my friends made this such an enjoyable year. We not only contributed school spirit and enthusiasm, but the team devoted most of our time to one cause, winning! We did just that against Downey, one of our most exciting games. Our morale seemed to be rather high, whether playing Downey, Cerritos or whomever. A reason for this was the cohesiveness between players and coaches which is always needed on a winning team. Speaking of winning teams how does 5-1 strike you? Need I say more??

— Mario Rottino



Netters NETTLED By Changes

The year started off rough but we made it. Through hard times we still developed a close friendship. We played hard and tried our best to win. The most exciting game was against Gahr. We had a rough year and won a few games, but we tried our hardest. Even though we were not doing so great we still kept our spirits high. We had a better year as far as team goes because we worked together instead of competing with one another. We as a team want to thank Kathy George, Bev Lidyoff, and Jani for coaching us. We wish Mr. Hyatt good luck in the future.

Girls MAKE Impressive Return

I enjoyed the fun that we shared while we worked to go to CIF. I was really glad of the way the season ended. I lost one set out of the whole season. I was proud to get number one in the S.G.V.L. The Paramount match was the most exciting game because it was a close game, but we won. Our average was 14 wins out of 18 games. We had a lot of new players, but we all worked hard and tried our best. The team got along well, we were all real close. I want to thank the team for all the support they gave me and I wish them good luck next year.

J.V. Girls FINISH Third

Even though they didn't go to C.I.F., this team met and tried to exceed their coach's expectations. The most exciting game played this season was by far the match against Downey because it was such a close one. Each individual game was either close or tied so every game became important. This year's team was the kind that could carry that pressure, however, because they had a great deal of spirit and commraderie. The team was made of a variety of girls who all worked together to create a 11-7 record finishing 3rd in league. "I'm not sure of the records of previous teams, but we had some excellent players and many girls had defnite rapid improvements. I had a blast just being with everyone," stated Carrie Gunnette.

They TOOK To The Road

Cross Country this season was a little disappointing, but we had fun anyway. You can't always expect to be on top. Even though our team wasn't winning as many meets, I think the team morale was better than previous years. The most exciting meet was against Paramount where we came close to winning. The Varsity team went through many position changes this year so it was hard to keep up. I enjoyed making friends and tried to teach the new girls the way Cross Country is run. Running is a great way to keep in shape and how could anyone not get along with Coach Johnson.

— Carrie Edgeworth

Boys X-Country LEADS The Pack

The thing I enjoyed most about cross-country was running in big invitationals. I was a captain and one of the lead runners in the races. The most exciting yet disappointing game was in league finals when they announced us as league champs and then turned around and told us they added wrong and told us we were second. We had a good, strong season. We were 6 and 1. We had alot of new runners, but we worked hard. We had a strong varsity team. My season was okay, but I should of trained harder.

Bears WATERLOG Season

I feel the most enjoyable aspect of any sport is the comradarie, the friendship, the fun times and the excitement of the game. Being the goalie and the captain I thought I helped bring the younger players along to kind of literally get their feet wet. Whether young or a veteran the morale seemed fun and humorous throughout the season, despite our 0-6 league record and 5-9 overall record. Coach Fraser and Spilsbury seemed to help us in any way. We really appreciate all the coaches for their effort.

— Sean McGuire

Flippers WET Feet For First Time

This season the Frosh/Soph Waterpolo team had a disappointing season, closing with a 0-6 record. The team seemed to have very tough competition from Gahr, Downey, Cerritos in league. The team started off with high hopes, winning many of their final pre-season games. Our team had an overflow of talent but we lacked any type of student leadership. But that did not stop the morale of the team at least until we were down by double-figures, then it set in. We still enjoyed the year because of the relationship between the coaches and us.

Soccer KICKS For The Goal

We anticapted our Varsity Soccer team to do great. We got off to a great start at the beginning of the season but all of a sudden team members wouldn't show up for practice. We had a few key members quit. Then we had problems with our coaching staff. The team moral was up and down, but it was mostly down due to all the losses we suffered. I enjoyed the physical and mental aspects of the game. I enjoyed the physical part because you run and use your body a lot. I like the mental part because soccer takes a lot of thinking and reading the other teams stratagies. The most exciting game of the season was our first game against Downey. That game ended up in a 2-2 tie, but it was an exciting and hard fought game. I was not pleased with our season this year. I thought that we could have done much better. I would like to wish next years team better luck than we had.

Through

Under the leadership of Coach Combs, the Varsity Wrestling Team had a very impressive season with a record of 26-6-2. Even though the team lost two good wrestlers we were one step from being league champs. Again, we lost a tough match against Paramount and settled for 2nd place in S.G.V.L.

The three captains, Jim Mauritho, Kevin Rooney, and Bob Nagel, along with Robert Guiterrez, went undefeated in league and are expected to do very well in C.I.F.

One of our highlights was a trip to Reno where we wrestled in the Sierra Nevada Classic. Out of 48 teams Warren came in 20th and had two place winners, Rooney and Mauritho.

The future looks very good for our young Grapplers. Next year the team will be lead by Vince Quimpo, Robert Guiterrez, and Brad Sampson. These three, along with other hard working individuals, should develop another outstanding wrestling team.

V. Wrestling

CAPTURES

First Place.

The young Bear Wrestlers finished undefeated in league this year with a 6-0 record. Our J.V. team had an outstanding season and all worked very hard for what they had earned.

This years coaching staff influenced the J.V. team to achieve all that they have. Gus Fuenmeyer helped very much during practice sessions, Mark Melthratter gave that extra push to everyone who needed it, and Coach Combs shared his talents and taught some excellent moves.

Many of the young wrestlers on the team will bring a very bright future for both the upcoming J.V. and Varsity wrestling teams. Going undefeated in league as a freshman, Omar Lugo has a long way to go with many victories to await. With a lot of hard work, individuals from this team can help regain another league title.

Girls

Through

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team had one of the best seasons it's had in a long time. We had an overall record of 16 and 6 and a league record of 8 and 4, giving us third place in league. We beat Downey which hasn't been done by Warren in about nine years and we beat Gahr which we've never done. I've been playing on the basketball team for three years and this is the first time the team has played together as one. We helped each other and made each other push harder. Another thing I liked about the team this year is that we had a lot of intensity which made us push harder when we were down by a lot. I think the most exciting game of the season was the second game against Downey. This was the game that determined which team was going to C.I.F. After winning the game 51-50, it was the best feeling I've ever had. I was very pleased with the season and after working hard for the last four months, I feel we are rewarded with the chance of going to C.I.F.

Boys

DRIBBLE

To C.I.F.

Almost everyone knows that things don't carry over from year to year. What happens in one year doesn't necessarily happen in another. This can be applied to sports as well. Although the Warren High Basketball team had a discouraging 1-11 record last year, they have worked very hard all summer and were ready to compete in league this year. They intended to go to CIF and compete at a high level. All in all, the team was a very good one, and definately improved from last year.

Warren had produced a team well respected as a unit, which is always a plus. Compared to the other teams in our league, we looked like the team to beat. This opinion was shared by others as well, since Warren was picked as the leading team by other six coaches in the league. And their opinion was proved right as Warren took first place, for the first time since 1972 in the S.G.V.L.

AIMS

To Win

The J.V. Basketball teams record was 5-3. This years team was better than the previous years team due to the introduction of the three pointer. Lawrence and Wells were the big three point shooters on the team. We have a quick point guard, Robert Jojola with Allen Tyner as our scoring machine. Luis Gomez was our big rebounder. I contributed about 17 points and 6-7 rebounds a game. The most exciting game was against Cerritos. We were losing at first but came back to win by 20 points. The J.V. Basketball Team really missed Coach Carter, but really appreciated the new coaching staff.

SOARS

To New Heights

The girls track team had a very good year. Along with Coach Johnson and Coach Hill we did our very best to strive for victory. Each Coach held a very unique position, because each were working, thinking and experiencing the track season together. We were very pleased with our season. We all tried our very best to achieve our goals and having fun at the same time. The most exciting game during the season was our meet against Downey. It was a very important meet. We all tried our best but it just wasn't good enough, we were defeated by the ducks!! What I enjoy most about track is the one on one aspect. The endurance that was needed to make a successful run in each meet. I tried to perform to the fullest in each meet I was in. I feel I've contributed spiritually as well as cheering on other runners, giving them help to finish that last lap. I'd like to say to the whole team that you all were the greatest and I can't wait for next year.

Boys' Track EXPLODES

OUT OF BLOCKS

The boys track team is a very hard working bunch of guys. With that combination there is know way that were going to be anything but champions. The team and the coaches get along very well. They are a big help, they push us and make us work hard to improve our times. Most of all they are there when we need them. The most unique thing about this team is that we stick together and if we lose the meet we come fighting back harder the next time. We encourage our teammates and hold our heads high at all times. The most exciting game would have to be with Cerritos. I had to race a very fast runner named Darryl Thomson. I thought for sure he was going to win, but I pushed myself and tried my hardest and I was at the finish line first. I enjoy track because it is a very competitive sport and if you work hard you will see good results. All in all I'm very pleased with the season so far.

Baseball

SLIDES

To Home

This season's baseball was looking good in pre-season. I thought that we were going to have a good year. Everything went wrong when league was about to start. Tony Fetchel hurt his arm and their were other key injuries. Another problem was eligibility. Some of the key starters had grade problems. We just couldn't get the team going and we would lose a few games and win a few games, but unfortunately we lost a few more than we won. The most exciting game was the game against Dominguez. I was pitching and it was the ninth inning with the bases loaded. Jack Worthington signaled a curve ball. I knodded o.k. I wound up and threw the ball. It was right over the plate, a perfect strike I thought. I never saw a ball go so far. We ended up losing by three points.

Boys' Volleyball

SPIKES SEASON

This was volleyball's second year as a new sport. Despite last year's two win season, this year's varsity volleyball team did quite well. With 3 returning starters from last season, the team improved its record vastly. The team and coaching staff got along well and it seemed to show on the court. The season started off well as the Bears won most of their pre-season games. The highlight of the season, though, was probably the Tournament at U.C.L.A.'s Pauley Pavilion, where they played some of southern California's finest High School volleyball teams. Along with more support from the students and parents, I think there is no doubt in anyone's mind that volleyball is growing into a bigger sport each year. Thus Bear volleyball will be accepted in the future as a competitive and exciting sport in the years to come

Swimmers COMPETE In Fast Lane

What I enjoyed most about swimming is the competition and the hard workouts. Swimming against Gahr, Cerritos, and Downey in league is some of the toughest competition I've been in. Coach Fraser is one of the best coaches the Bears have ever had. One thing about Coach Fraser is that he never gives up on us. When ever your time wouldn't improve or your turn was bad, Coach Fraser would immediately work on it the next day. My favorite was the 500 freestyle. It's the only event that no one will swim. You would think it's too long of a swim. I think it's an event you would take your time with. Most exciting meet of the year was against Lakewood. Although they are not in league, they put up a good fight. Most of the meet was neck and neck. It finally came down to the end where we defeated them. This year's Swimming season was a success.

The ball sailed up and over two out-stretched gloves in the outfield. At bat, different players went through the rotation one at a time and waited for the next ball to be released from the pitching machine 15 feet away, as eight to ten players stood scattered throughout the field.

Composed of approximately 12 players, the team struggled to regain the intensity which had earned them a 4th place finish in the 32-team Downey Tournament, and which had led them to a 4-1 pre-season record. Yet turning their frustrating 0-3 league start into a winning record and a CIF playoff birth at the end of the season was more difficult than first imagined.

The Bear defense was more solid than in previous years, especially behind the pitching of junior Amanda Martin. But it was the offense which strained to meet its potential game after game.

Warren Tennis had a great season. They had a season of 7-1 with their only loss coming from league leading Cerritos. They were lead by #1 and #2 singles, Park and McLean and the #1 and #2 doubles, Park, Kim, Suog, Oertel. We all like our coaches very well. They try to give us the best advice, not only in tennis but in life itself. We hope to become the best that we can be. The moral of the team is a very enthusiastic one. We all try to help each other when we are down and when were winning we all congratulate each other. Compared to previous years we look very strong. I hope we can put it together. I hope to contribute not only my physical strengths but also my mental strenghts. All in all I hope we do our very best and have fun at the same time.

TEAMWORK
Makes A Difference

I sat alone in the corner of my room. Thinking. An open yearbook laying in my lap had stirred some buried memories, and now my eyes stared past the growing piles of discarted clothing I had been attempting to sort through while cleaning my room. Memories, like footage from a classic film, walked across my mind -with images slightly blurred (for the camera was, a bit unfocused.)

People, places, activities all things I had shoved aside after graduation from High School in order to "get on with my life"; all considered useless until now. The movie was in full motion when I saw a familiar face pass by in front of the camera's lense. I stopped the reel and looked closely - yes, I did know this person. And in recognizing her, I was forced to change reels to pursue her memory.

I reflected. Where was she now? and what was she doing? Was she happy? And did she ever wonder what happened to me? Did she realize the impact she had on my life? As more than a teacher? As something close to a friend? The picture began to move again, and I saw us together - laughing uproariously at some inside joke; hagering over some assignment; discussing some pertinant issue - her trying to explain it to me in simple terms I could grasp - I, barely gripping the edge as I tried to understand.

There were those who frowned upon such a relationship - unable to comprehend the reasons for its existance. I frowned myself - not in anger - but in saddness for they never experienced the rewards a teacher-student friendship could bring; much more than a solitary classroom environment could ever hope to reap from the few seeds sown. The feeling of acceptance, the feeling of selfworth, the feeling of hope for a future with integrity. I stopped the reel and smiled.

Staff Development funds for Ab551 were cut from the State Budget this year, but with funds left from last year, the faculty Staff Development Committee pressed on giving teachers perks.

Kenneth E. Standley, Director of Study Skills Institute of California, was the speaker for the Staff Development Day held on October 21, 1987 in the cafeteria. On the student free day, teachers gathered to hear him talk about areas of student learning deficiencies, effective note taking methods, and successful reading methods for studying in preparation for tests. After his presentation, teachers gathered for a Potluck luncheon prior to their afternoon Department Meetings. The day was considered successful by staff members as individual departments rarely have extended time for meetings. In all cases, teachers indicated a desire for follow-up modified days to give departments time to continue with subjects opened on this day. The Committee has plans for another full day in the Spring with several modified days in-between. Funding proved to be a hurdle but not a wall.

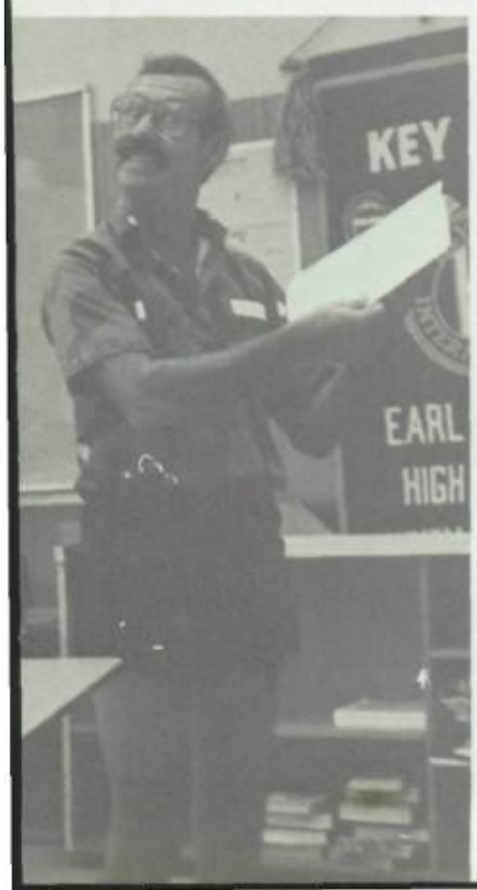
Did you enjoy having a mimic on Halloween?

Yes I thought it was great, it was something very original. -Dr. Larue

Whether students feel that it ruins the dignity of teachers or destroys the discipline in a classroom when teachers dress in costume for various dress-up days throughout the year or enjoy seeing their teachers and other staff members join in the fun, no student will deny that on October 1st our "Dorks" were not shaken from their duty.

Halloween Dress-up Day is the traditional day for teachers to join students in creativity. Many teachers come to school in costumes ranging from the expected witches garb to renditions of Hamlet. However, the various dress up days that are included in the week prior to the Warren/Downey football game also see teachers sporting Hawaiian shirts or Blue and Cold or their best rendition of a Downey Dork. This year Dork day provided its own surprise as it was sceduled for October 1st and an unscheduled 6.1 earthquake found teacher and student alike in various degrees of "Dorkdom" standing on the football field in 95 heat waiting for the all clear to sound. The crowd may have looked like idiots, but none behaved that way. The administration and the teachers were proud of the students who broke the rule of dress ruling behavior — every dork behaved beautifully.



LISTEN UP NOW!
"Papa Joe" Francis seems to be disappointing his audience as he tells the crowd the rules for the "Most Hawaiian" competition.

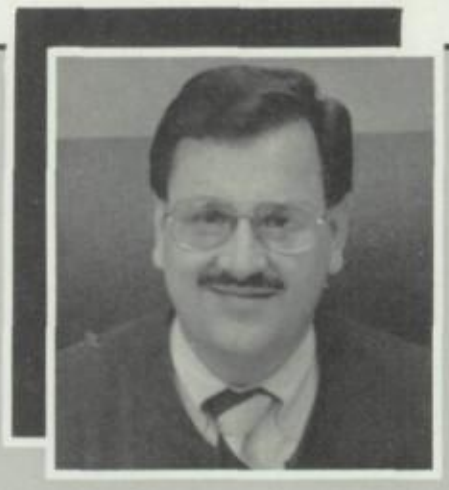
How do you feel about coming to a new school?



"Its really nice being at Warren. The staff and students are super. Everyone is involved, they expect the best and give the BEST!" Mr. Harcharik

"King" Williams departure left Warren's throne in the capable hands of Shirly Zanger as "Regent" until "Sir" Edward Harcharik could assume the title in this changing of the guard.

When Principal William Spruston announced on September 8th that his last day would be September 11th, he took everyone by surprise. Under Spruston's direction Warren had become involved in the Academic Decathlon, Ab551 grant writing and other academic oriented activities. Shirley Zanger, Principal of the Hospital School, was appointed to fill the slot as "Interim" principal by Superintendent Ed Sussman until interviews could be conducted. Zanger, known by many Warren teachers, made the transition months easy by adding her winning personality to the team. Her calm leadership saw us through from earthquake to Fall semester final exams. Edward Harcharik was chosen as the new principal to start at the beginning of 2nd semester and found from the beginning what Bill Spruston had stated upon departure, "This staff is the very best around."

Veronique Parker clowns around as Mrs. K says with a smile on her face, "How are those deadlines coming along girls?"

MAKE YOUR MARK IN LIFE.
Mrs. Lords is about to make her mark, not in life, but on Anthony Marquez with her famous eraser trick.

GUESS WHO?
"The unknown comic" returns. This time in 4-D. But only Mrs. Hastings knows who these masked men are.

Taking charge and showing authority, while sharing personal experiences and human compassion, the trick is knowing the difference between "buddy-buddy" and a true friend, knowing where to draw the line.

"Everyone get out their test papers", The teacher says. The authority is still there yet she laughs when someone drops their book and makes a silly mistake. My favorite teacher. She was in charge, and everyone knew she was our friend. She would laugh with us, perhaps sometimes at us and even comment on her personal experiences which might help us.

Teachers must of course have the upper hand and must be able to take charge and teach but I believe that if she is liked then the quality of learning time will be greatly increased. Being liked takes a small effort and with high school students, I believe that it takes alot more effort. With elementary teachers its easier. The children love their teachers, they honor them, look up to them, they really love them, they can do no wrong. A high school teacher on the other hand is often criticized and "given the hard time."

Teachers should be able to relate to their students. This in fact may help them to understand maybe their reasoning or their moods. I have had "The pleasure", of having a teacher who might of taught us about math but definately didn't teach us anything about friendship or human compassion. He came to school everyday and tuaght and never once acted as if he liked us. On the other hand I had a teacher who taught me many academic skills but also taught me things about life itself. She was everyones friend and was always there if one needed to talk yet she was strong and stood firm to the rules in her classroom. We became great friends inside and outside of school and eventually when I left school we started doing things like going shopping together.

I really believe that teachers, because of the fact that we see them fives days a week, are very important to our growing up. Wouldn't we rather grow up in a friendly atmosphere then one governed and ruled by inconsiderate teachers? It's a difficult line to see, but there should be one there which separates the relationships of teacher and "buddy-buddy." A happy medium would be nice.

— Wendy Brown

What is it like having more than a pupil/ teacher relationship with your pep squad?

Its both good and bad. Being a Pep Squad advisor you get to know the kids better. Sometime your feelings can get hurt but everything seems to work out great. - Karen Wallace

Extra hours, and further responsibilies of those dedicated teachers who choose to be involved in extra curricular activities make our faculty special. A teachers job is never done!

The teachers here at Warren do a lot more for this school than just teach. By putting in extra hours and hard work, they make Warren a very special place to be for teachers and students alike. Some "extra duties" the teachers do include being club advisors, teacher mentors, and supervising school activities such as dances and games.

Club advisors have many jobs to do. They must give up their lunch time to attend the club meetings, work with the president of the club in organizing such things as fund raisers and field trips. Overall, they're just to be there if the club needs their help.

Teacher mentors are in a sense teachers who "teach" teachers. Mentor teachers are picked by a committee and work with district personnel as well as site administration and fellow teachers to make their particular subject area better.

Perhaps the most enjoyable of the "extra duties" is supervising school games and dances. Thus, in doing this, they are making it possible for the kids to have the dance or game while supervising. They can have a good time and mingle with the kids.

What do I get out of coaching?

Feeling that the achievements of the team, and the individual players is a result of my personal effort as well as theirs.
-Coach Taylor

The pressures, and responsibilities of working together as a team doesn't seem so bad when the students has a coach who cares. Learning any sport is so much easier when the player has a coach to understand and help out. Coaching means a bond that builds a team from nothing.

I think the wrestling team and I have a very special relationship. Our coach is one of the best coaches that I've been coached by before. Our coach is so nice, understanding, and thoughtful.

Our coach makes us work hard in practice because he wants us to try our best to win league. The practices are hard, especially in an enclosed room with the heaters on, making you break a sweat. Just imagine running and wrestling in there.

The coach helps the ones who are beginners that don't know that much. Sometimes we have fun by letting the wrestlers just wrestle and play around.

I think coaches should be a friend in order to learn the things he wants us to learn. I don't consider my coach as just a coach but also as a friend.

Students do not realize that there are department chairmen who help keep the individual department running. Without the help of Edy Hastings; English, Harvey Keller; Social Science, Mary Lou Busby; Math, Gary Hunter; P.E., Jackie Emerson; Fine Arts; and Laurance Rice, Science, the individual departments would not be able to function without textbooks, paper clips and what teacher can function without the ever present stapler. The Department Head is responsible for ordering all these supplies. In addition they act as Liason between the administration and department their helping with class schedules, etc. . . . . We are very thankful for our many teachers who take care of us. Thank You.

What does being a Mentor involve?

"It takes a lot to time. I am frequently working with other math teacher, the District, and the administration to coordinate math needs in our district." Diane Camacho

From the very beginning, administration knew that mentor teachers would provide a great service to their fellow teachers and their school. But they didn't quite know that mentor teachers were set loose to give a new answer to the question, "What do you mean I MENT?"

The Hughs-Hart Educational Reform Act, issued in 1983, helped to establish a Mentor Teacher Program-whereas teachers could explore and develop innovative teaching techniques and teach it to their collegues. By spring 1984, the Mentor Program was in place at the Downey Unified School District.

Mentor teachers provide assistance to teachers who are new to the district within the parameters of their respective mentor subject areas. Mentors also prepare staff development materials and workshop and assist in curricular review and revision.

In order to be considered a mentor teacher in the Downey Unified School District, an individual must be a credentialed classroom teacher and have three years of recent experience in a classroom. The teaching strategies and matter knowledge are necessary to meet the needs of pupils in different contexts.

The following teachers serve our district in Warren Specified mentor designations: Dianne Camacho, math; John Henning, Computers; Gary Hunter, Physical Education; Wayne Johnson, new teachers; Cheryl Kennedy, English; and Larry Rice, Science.

Are there any teachers who have ever wanted to be popular on campus with the students? This does not always mean being the funniest teacher or the most kick-back on assignments. In the long run, the teachers we remember most are those who challenge us. This is the true key to success on how to be a favorite.

Every person when going through school had a favorite teacher. Usually, teachers aren't too high on teenagers lists because teachers give out nasty tests, quizzes, and homework assignments. How can a teacher become a favorite? My favorite teacher is Mrs. Hastings, a Honors English teacher and head of the English department at Warren High School. She was my favorite because she is very challenging and at the same time, made the class the most fun class I've had.

When I was registering for the eleventh grade, I wanted to take Honors English. Several people told me not to take it with Hastings because she was too hard. I tried to get the other teacher who taught Honors English, but my schedule didn't allow it. I'm such a lucky kid to have it work out that way. At first, I was intimidated by her, but I got used to her. Since it was an Honors class, we could talk off into different areas that applied to us. During a normal day in her class, the whole class would burst out in laughter. She was like one of us. She related something we read to something that would make us laugh. Even though this doesn't seem like a proper way to hold a class, we learned as we laughed. Once I remember that she read us a short story and during it, she said that the main character was a snobbish brat. Then, after we had finished laughing, she asked us why she had that reaction. I had to work the hardest I've ever worked to get an "A" both semesters in that class, but I didn't mind because with all that work came fun too.

This should be read to teachers at a convention. If a teacher is having problems getting the class interested in the subject, then show the class that a teacher is a human too. Relate the subject to something familiar with teens. Make the students laugh. If the teacher shows that learning is a two-way experience, then the kids feel that they're not alone. I'm not talking about total anarchy in the class with all laughter and no work. The classroom should be a sociable area where business and pleasure can take place. All you teachers out there who want to be a favorite, don't worry, listen to me and you'll be fine!!! — Robert Grebel

What has kept you here at Warren High for so long?

This school is a wonderful place to work. I enjoy the students and the faculty very much. I've been working here since it opened 32 years ago. It's the most "OUTSTANDING SCHOOL OF THIS AREA."
-Mrs. Saffell

In this democratic nation of ours, "the people" don't always get a "say-so" in the decision making of our public school system. Instead the government, also known as, the Board of Education gives authority to our administrators.

Throughout its history as a school, Warren High has administered many rules which students have liked and many they have disliked. One rule which is very much disliked by many is the closed campus rule. Not only is this rule ridiculous on behalf of the ultraconservative Board of Education of Downey, but it prevents the student from getting a fair meal, and from making his own choice.

This history of Downey, and especially its Board of Education, has many odd and hard to believe stories. This city was on international news when the Board of Education banned Tarzan from the schools, because Tarzan and Jane were not believed to be married. There were many other books banned because of similar, Puritanical and idiotic reasons. This ultraconservative board base their reason for a closed campus on reasons as idiotic as their reason for banning Tarzan. Downey should look at other school boards that allow an open campus, and see how well it actually works.

Lack of a fair school meal is another reason that open campus is needed. As almost any student and I will tell you that the school food, "stinks!"

Indeed, this is usually the case, since many times the food is prepared much sooner before it is served, and many times, food which is not sold, is kept and served at a later date. Some may argue that students can bring their own lunch if they do not like the schools. The fact is that many times, students lack the time to prepare a nutritious lunch in the morning.

Along with an open campus comes the freedom of choice. Open campus would allow a student to eat anywhere he wants to; home, a restaurant, McDonald's. Indeed, it is freedom of choice that makes the United States so appealling, and when this freedom is denied, the people argue and fight back to regain it. Freedom of choice is indeed denied to the students of this campus.

A Board of Education which restricts its students in such a way as mentioned above, can not expect those students to grow up and make their own decisions, since they will be used to obeying the rules that every single individual makes up. A society with people who cannot make their own decisions, is not a society for very long.

— Harry Christidis

Are you a "WINNER" as a "LOSER?"

"I FEEL GREAT!" Now that I've done it I'll NEVER BE OVER WEIGHT AGAIN!!" - Felix Lovatto

Sometimes we tend to imagine the administration as "meanies" who only want to get us in trouble. In reality they are here to help us when we're in trouble. Maybe it's time to start trusting more in our administration, and trusting means you gotta have faith.

The administration — those faraway people you never see, unless you are in trouble. Those behind-the-scenes people that noiselessly run the school. Many think that you deal with these people only when you have done something that they only punish. That's not true. At least I haven't found it so.

It was a rainy November day. Despite the rain, I was in an incredible mood. That is, until I saw my car. When I walked out to the parking lot most of the other cars were gone. Mine sat alone with a nice new dent. There were no other cars around, but someone had hit my car.

Mr. Davis, our new vice principal, was notified immediately and took things in hand. We soon discovered who had hit my car and arrangements were made for the damage to be paid for. I was amazed by his concern for me and my problem with a whole school of problems out there. The help I received from Mr. Davis and the rest of the administration restored my faith in this institution. It makes me proud to graduate from Warren High!!! — Susie Joachim

Honored Students DEEMED SWELL

The students in this section have been honored for their exceptional abilities, whether they be in Academics, Athletics or other areas. Warren High has always had a long list of students deserving of top honors and this year is no exception. These students have been dedicated to their particular area of expertise which has given them feelings of honor, respect and most importantly pride. Students who are academically inclined compete for various scholarships and other recognitions given by the many possible departments and outside businesses, while students who excell in athletics compete for recognition of their athletic prowess and their efforts toward possible college and/or professional positions. Some of the Wizards of Warren who have won these prizes express their surprise. Danny Lewis, for example, stated, "Being a National Merit Scholar has only proved I'm an under-achiever." Jerry Krause and Benis Babusis were their usual quiet selves as they received their honors and compared physics notes. Some people pictured in this section did not know they were having their pictures taken. They would ask "Why do you need my picture?" and we would simply answer "for yearbook." and they would return to their classes as mystified as when they had arrived. Several of the pictures had to be taken again, and again because one of our photographers neglected to put film in the camera. This section was a tough one to finish because it was one one of the last and much of the information could not be obtained until the day before the deadline, but we finished it and here it is.

POINT AND LAUGH!

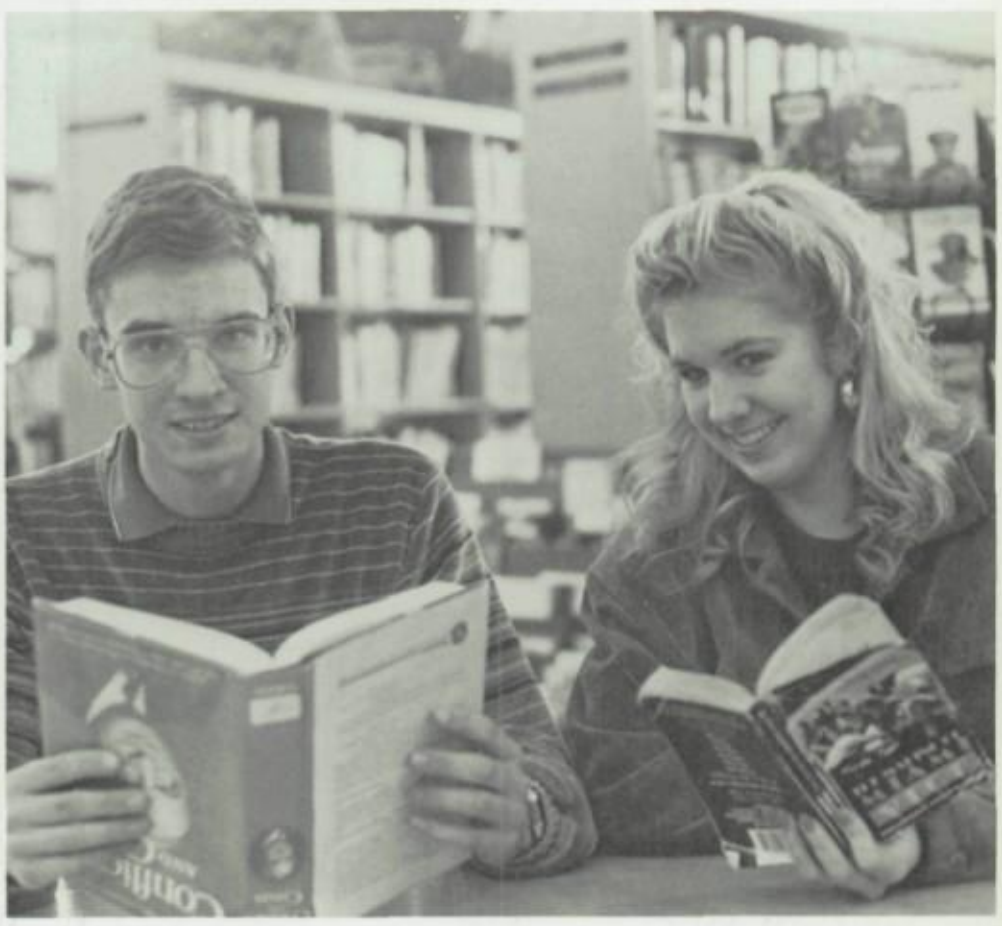
TEACHERS GET HONORS TOO!
Mr. Laurance Rice and Jerry Krause receive awards from Southern California Edison.

HONORS STUDENTS?
At Warren, honors students don't stick out until this section of the yearbook where a spotlight is shone upon them. They, like Harry Christidis, Edgar Del Rosario, and Georgia Lacaba, "hang out" during snack looking like "just one of the gang."



MOST STUDIOUS!
We'd like to take the time to honor our most studious seniors once again for winning the Downey Emblem Club Scholarship.

They Captured The Gold!

Our Science Olympiad Team consisting of Richard Kim, Doug Swift, Taku Otsuka, Matt Holley, Benis Babusis, John Wang, Steven Ju, Jerry Krause, Jane Kang, Rhada Patel, Cindy Parr, and Ike Ikizyan are shown here resting their minds before competing in the Los Angeles County Science Olympiad in which they took a first. The team went on to the State Olympiad and placed eleventh. Doug Swift placed Second in the "Orienteering" event. Other events included "Rocks and Fossils, a Pentathalon, Balloon competition, Bridge Building, a Bio-Process Lab, and a Chemistry Lab. Downey High School placed twentieth out of the twenty-five competitors at the State Olympiad.

Sean Ocana, Michelle Gil and Scott Simmons received honors in drama for their outstanding theatrical performances.

Warren High School offers its students a variety of exciting clubs for those who wish to join. The clubs that we have are very unique. There is more than one club for every type of person on our campus. There is Thespians for those with an ability to act, academic clubs for those who wish to share their knowledge of a particular subject, service clubs for those who are willing to share a part of themselves with the world around them, and many, many more for those who just want to have fun. By joining a club, you can get involved with your school. It also shows that you have school pride, and it gives you a chance to meet new people. The experiences gained and the friendships that can be made from joining clubs are some of the most memorable high school activities. A club offers opportunities for students to improve their appreciation for others and learn new skills. Also, a club offers valuable experience in administration and leadership skills. Many students find that clubs are enjoyable and very interesting. Meetings are held before, during and after school and some cases over the weekends. There were some conflicts concerning priorities. Club members had to decide whether to participate in club activities or to finish homework assignments. Club advisors tried to help students make the right decisions. This section will show you all the clubs and the people who have made them what they are. Each club has its own style but for the most part they are all alike, they have students who give hard work and dedication to what they are doing.

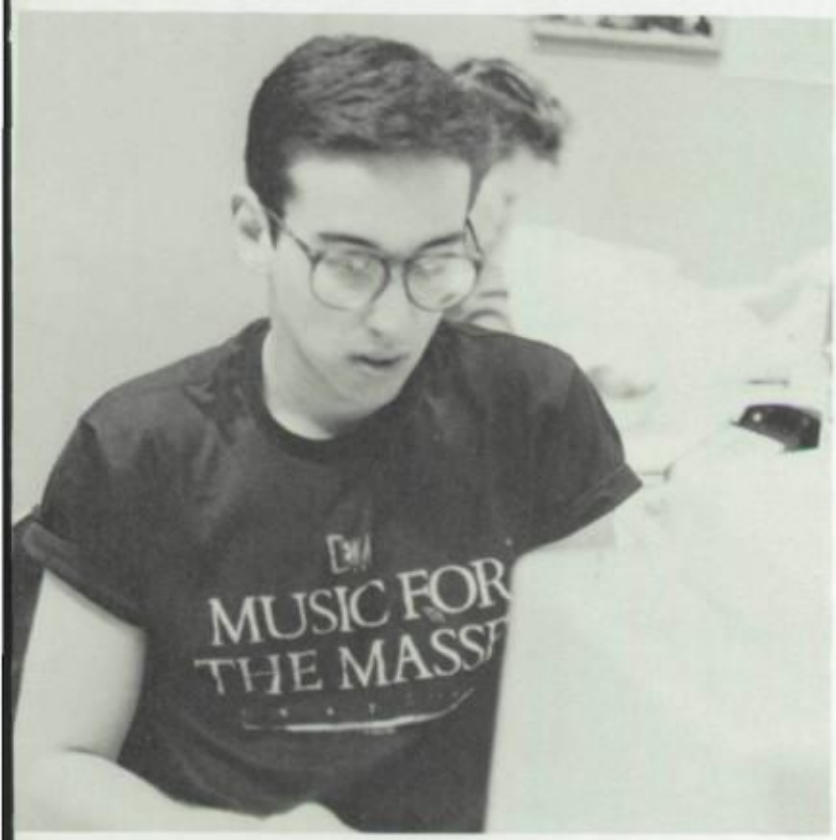
Jeff tries to think of the "right" word to put in his story for the next issue of The Justice.



Here at Warren High School we have two clubs that definitely make their mark each year, the El Oroso Staff and the Justice Staff. These two groups are responsible for getting the school's "happenings" out in print.

The Justice produces a monthly newspaper that let's their readers know what's occurring on and off campus, while the El Oroso tries to "capture the moment" of events that the student body is involved in. In order to achieve the goals of the yearbook and newspaper staff's, a lot of hard work, time, and responsibility is involved. The "fun" doesn't start until the work is done and one see's the final product. That's where the excitement and feeling of reward comes in.

Hopefully in one, five, or ten years when you pick up an old issue of the Justice or a dusty yearbook from the shelf you will look back and remember the feeling of what it was like when you were in high school.

Les Devouees is a service club for girls here on Warren's campus. To get into this club a girl must earn a certain amount of service points. One of the memorable ways of getting points is during Applicant Week, where the girls must wear embarrassing costumes to school each day and do things such as carry her "Big Sister's " books, or bring her lunch.

A New NOTE

Under the direction of our new Band Director, Todd Miller, Marching Band and Auxiliary units such as Tall Flag and Banner/Rifle along with the Majorette and Drum Major compete in parades and field show competitions when they are not entertaining us during Half-time at Football games and Basketball games or Pep Assemblies. In addition, during the Spring, Symphonic Band gives its second yearly concert called the Spring Concert. Just as the Winter Concert is the dress up event for the Band, along with the coral groups, for the Holiday season, this springtime event is the highlight of second semester. The auxiliary units have various competitions of their own. Our Band with its various units has a tradition of being very successful in its competitions and this year is no exception.

Will Nash accepts a First place for his rendition of Dr. Gerald Larue as Ireno Rodriguez who took 2nd looks on during the lunchtime Halloween Awards Assembly.

For JOYS And Agonies Decisions

When a person enters high school, he is faced with many joys, decisions, and agonies. There are the joys of friends, teachers, and school events, such as dances and games. Also, students have to make many decisions concerning their futures, such as which college to attend, what to major in, and what to do for a living — let alone the day to day decisions of what classes to take for their four years, what clubs to join, and what activities to participate in. There are minor decisions, such as who to take to the big dance, what color tux or dress to wear to prom or homecoming, who to take out on a date and many more. Many adults view these minor decisions as being childish and ridiculous, which in many cases they are, but they are the last chance students have to be childish and ridiculous before we enter the no-nonsense adult world. Along with the joys of being a student also come the agonies. Agonies such as taking one more SAT test before the final deadline, taking the tough classes in the last two years when most students want to kick back, and saying good-bye to many beloved friends at the end of 4 years. Students must remember the awards of working hard and doing things we do not want to do along with the many fun things. The friends we have made here won't be forgotten. Indeed, our high school years should be ones of the most fun and fulfilling in our lives, and years which will remain in our memories for all our years to come. — Harry Christidis

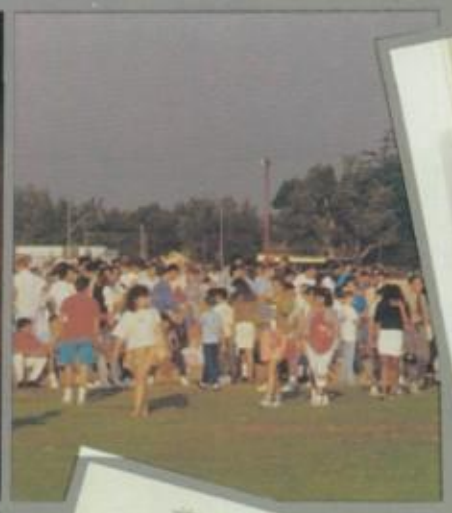
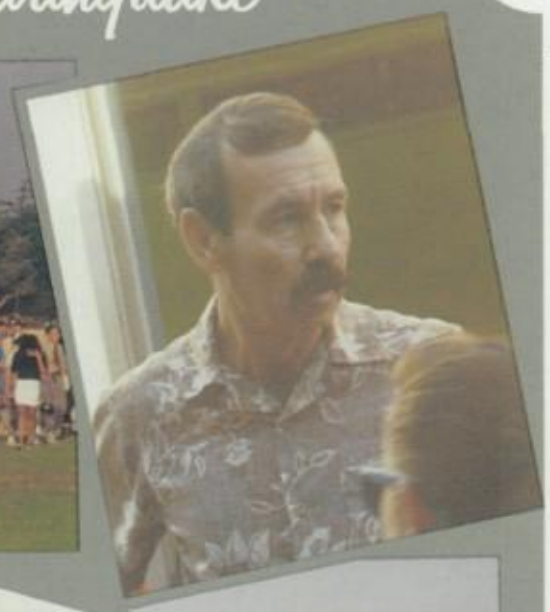
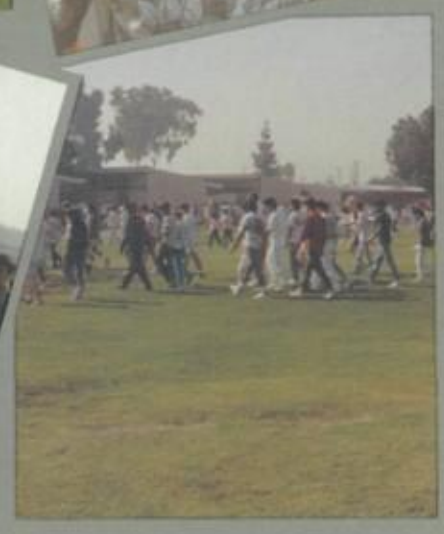
SHAKE, Rattle and Roll

Earthquake







On October 1, for 20 seconds Warren students and faculty members experienced a 6.1 earthquake which rattled Southern California at 7:42 that Thursday morning.

A third aftershock, which registered 4.5, occured causing the light standards, declared safe by a district inspector prior to the event, to sway dangerously, and the students were forced to move to the Paramount field.

Administrative staff members working the student release stations attempted with the minimal results to keep order among parents, some who reportedly were shouting for their children to just jump the fence.

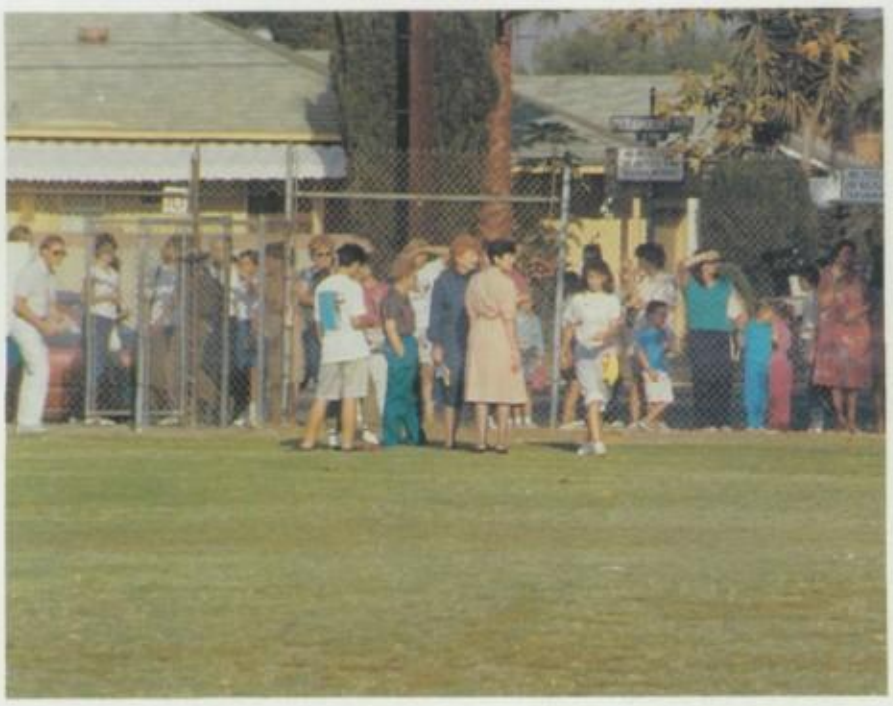
Unable to return to class due to uncertainty concerning the safety of building structures and the extent of damage which might have been done, students and staff remained on the Paramount field in the growing heat of the morning. Administrators, afraid to release the student body without orders from the District.

At approximately 9:30am students were told to go to their second period classes, where they were dismissed from campus a short time later.

No serious damage was done to any of the buidings on campus, however, several classrooms sustained minimal breakage of glass windows and containers. There were no injuries to students or faculty members, and school activities resumed on Friday.

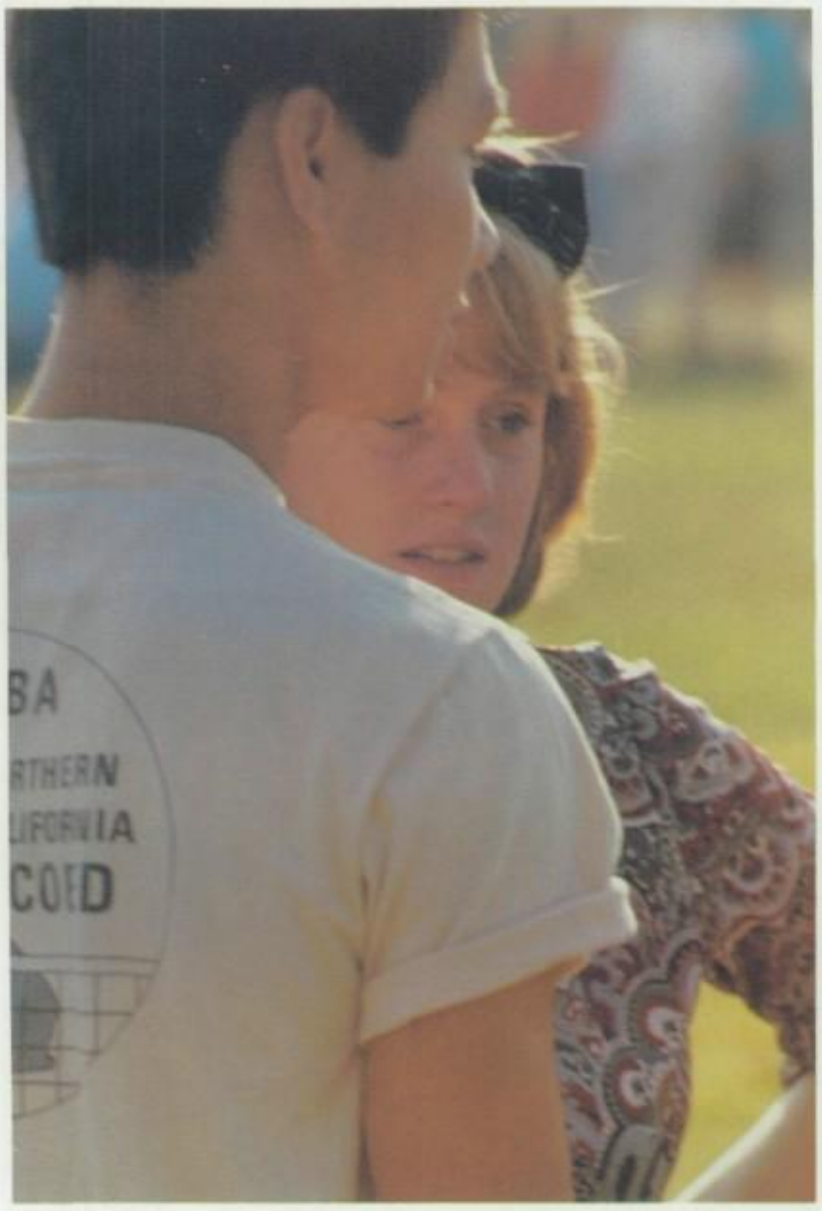
"WOW THAT WAS A DOOZY!" Mr. Keller looks a little shaken up after the 6.1 earthquake on Oct. 1, at 7:40 am. Mr. Keller not knowing what to do whether to stay in his door way or follow the others out to the field.

"HEY THAT WAS NEAT" With little hysteria the student body assembled to the Paramount field to hear further instructions on where to go, how to act, and who to call in this kind of emergency.



"WHERE'S MY KID?" Frightened parents have our guidance counselors working overtime trying to find the students of the distressed parents after the earthquake.

"I WANT TO GO HOME!" Susie Joachim was a little shaken up after the earthquake. She expressed the need to go home and make sure her family was ok.

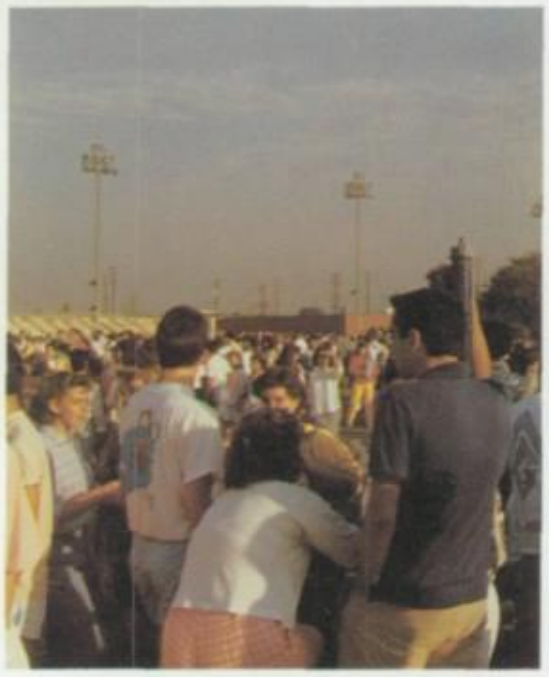


NOW CALM DOWN. Teachers try to calm the students down reassuring them that everything will be ok. While trying to believe it themselves.

"WHERE COULD HE BE?" Coach Hunter is distressed when he realizes he can't find one of his students, not knowing whether he has come to school or not.

"PANICK STRICKEN" Students try to calm each other down, hoping they will soon see their family and go home.

"NOT AGAIN" While trying to get to the football field after the initial shock, an after shock occurs causing everyone to lose their balance.



UNDERCOVER.

SEEING DOUBLE??

Who's who?? Which is Dr. Larue? To Will Nash and his great job of impersonation of Dr. Larue one couldn't tell unless you really knew. Will was such a great hit, with staff and students, that he received 1st place at our halloween costume contest.

IS IT PETER PAN?

No it's Jason Gwin trying to show off his sexy legs in his green tights, to all the girls. Jason figured that if he wore his short little Peter Pan costume more girls will pay attention. And they did!

UH OH, IT'S COACH TAYLOR!!!!

Wait take a better look!! It's Sean Padilla dressed up on Halloween as Coach. He sure did look like him. Sean could and did fool alot of people on that fun day.

TRICK OR TREAT

On Halloween 1987 our student body dressed up as their favorite character. Jason Gwin and Scott Simmons look out across the Quad laughing at all the funny costumes not knowing that our cameraman captured them on film.

SISTERS.

Sister David Nidess and sister Roman Gwin bow their heads in a moment of brief prayer for all the destitute people at Warren High School.

Facts, Faces and Funnies

Halloween

Halloween 1987 turned out to be one of the best ever. The overall participation and excitement of the students proved to be out of the ordinary for the normally "non-spirited" students. Offering validity to our spirit was the actual number of primed up persons on campus. The creativity shone through like fire on the pumpkin day.

The costumes varied from a pair of male nuns to Peter Pan. We had teddy bears, babies, Cher imitations, and even a Buck Taylor clone. The school day began as expected with friends laughing at other friend's often outlandish costumes. The best costume was well received by the assembled crowd. As always, many excellent costumes were rented from local shops but the homemade originals were the ones to make it to finals. The contest was between the cleverly inventive Ireno Rodriguez in his African Schaman costume and the always inventive Will Nash who became our halloween king for his representation of our beloved Dr. Larue.

The day ended leaving memories embedded in the minds of numerous students with a hope that the tradition will be carried on in years to come.

Jason Gwin

FLAP AWAY!!
Cindy Peterson dressed to kill in her roaring 20's flapper outfit. Is she trying to be sexy? Or is she just reassuring her pumpkin to give a big smile.

SISTER GWIN???
Seems like this Halloween Roman Gwin thought about joining the convent. He must not have been accepted when they found out Romans true identity, she's a he. What a disappointment to Roman, so on Halloween he showed everyone he's still a dedicated sister.

AWAITING the Moment of Truth

Homecoming

With rain threatening to ruin this years crowning of the Homecoming Queen, the crowd waited the traditional halftime ceremony. The three traditional senior princesses, Patty Faust, Julie Kim, and Sylvia Serrano, and soon to be Queen were driven onto the field in Corvettes along with the Freshman Princess, Cherrie Canning, Sophomore Princess, Nichole Prack, and Junior Princess, Dominique Drechsler. They were introduced one by one and took their position on the platforms. Jacquie Brown was named the 1987-88 Homecoming Queen, and was crowned by last years Queen, Heidi Gunnette.

This evening was especially exciting for Darius Turner, our Homecoming King, due to his great performance in our homecoming game against Paramount where he scored two touchdowns for a win.

Luckily, the rain didn't start to pour until after ceremonies were over. Although many of our Bear fans left early at least they got to see our beautiful Queen, Jacquie Brown, begin her reign with tears of joy . . .

"LIGHTS, ACTION, CAMERA!" Here they come the 1987-88 Homecoming court, modeling their pretty faces and gowns. First is our very own freshman princess Cheri Canning looking lovely as usual. Then here is Nichole Pratt representing our sophomore class, then comes Dominique Drechsler our beautiful Junior princess. Here comes our senior princess . . . Patty Faust smiling over her shoulder, Julie Kim saying "hi mom", and Sylvia Serrano thinking if my friends could see me now!! Our beautiful homecoming court takes their position on stage awaiting the moment of truth.

"I'M SO EXCITED" Christy Bauer and Miriam Schimmel are so excited to be giving the pretty roses to the new 1987 homecoming court.

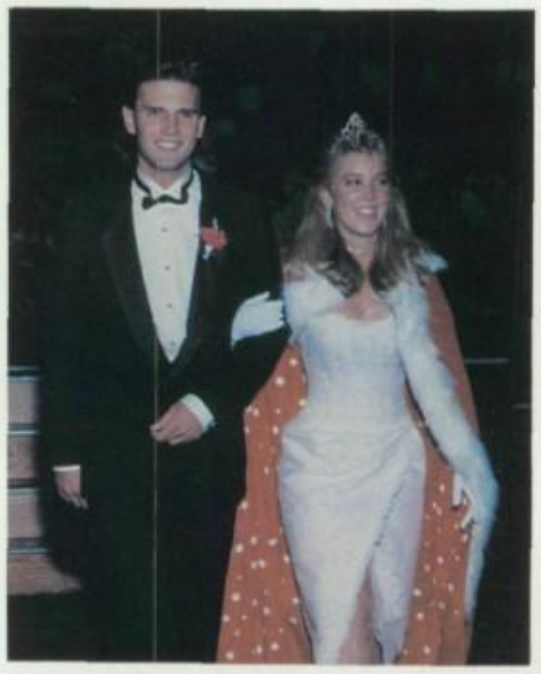
"SAY CHEESE" Darius Turner and Jacquie Brown our Homecoming king and queen, smile for the cameras. Darius is in his football uniform and getting ready to get back in the game and strut his stuff. Go get em' Darius.!

TRIUMPHANT TRIUMVERATE. Lou Sananikone, Carrie Edgeworth, and Debbie Canning smile and say "It was a piece of cake!"

I DID IT! With tears of joy Jaquie Brown accepts the crown from former queen Heidi Gunett. Congratulations Jaquie!!!

SEE YA! Looking as great as always, our 1986-87 homecoming queen and king Jeff Erickson and Hidi Gunett take their final walk and say good bye.

IF OUR FRIENDS COULD SEE US NOW. Our beautiful 1987-88 Homecoming court show off and say cheese to all the picture happy photographers.



LIVING IT UP!

Watch out! When Steve Davis, Anthony Simmons, and Bobby Perumean hit the floor and do their famous dance Shaker Stallion, they were the center of attention. They livened the whole place up with a dance which was started by Anthony and soon danced by the crowd.

THE ROYAL COUPLE.

This year the 1987 homecoming king, Darius Turner and queen, Jacquie Brown broke the tradition of dancing to a planned theme song. "Can't we try" was supposed to be played but instead "Always" was chosen at the last minute.

AT CLOSE RANGE.

Larry Burchill and Michelle Ariola seem to be having a wonderful time as they snuggle close together during a song at the homecoming dance.

THE TIME HAS ARRIVED.

For couples to get together, dress up, and have a great time as they crowd to the dance floor and rock to the music from K-ROQ.

They're Not Our Song

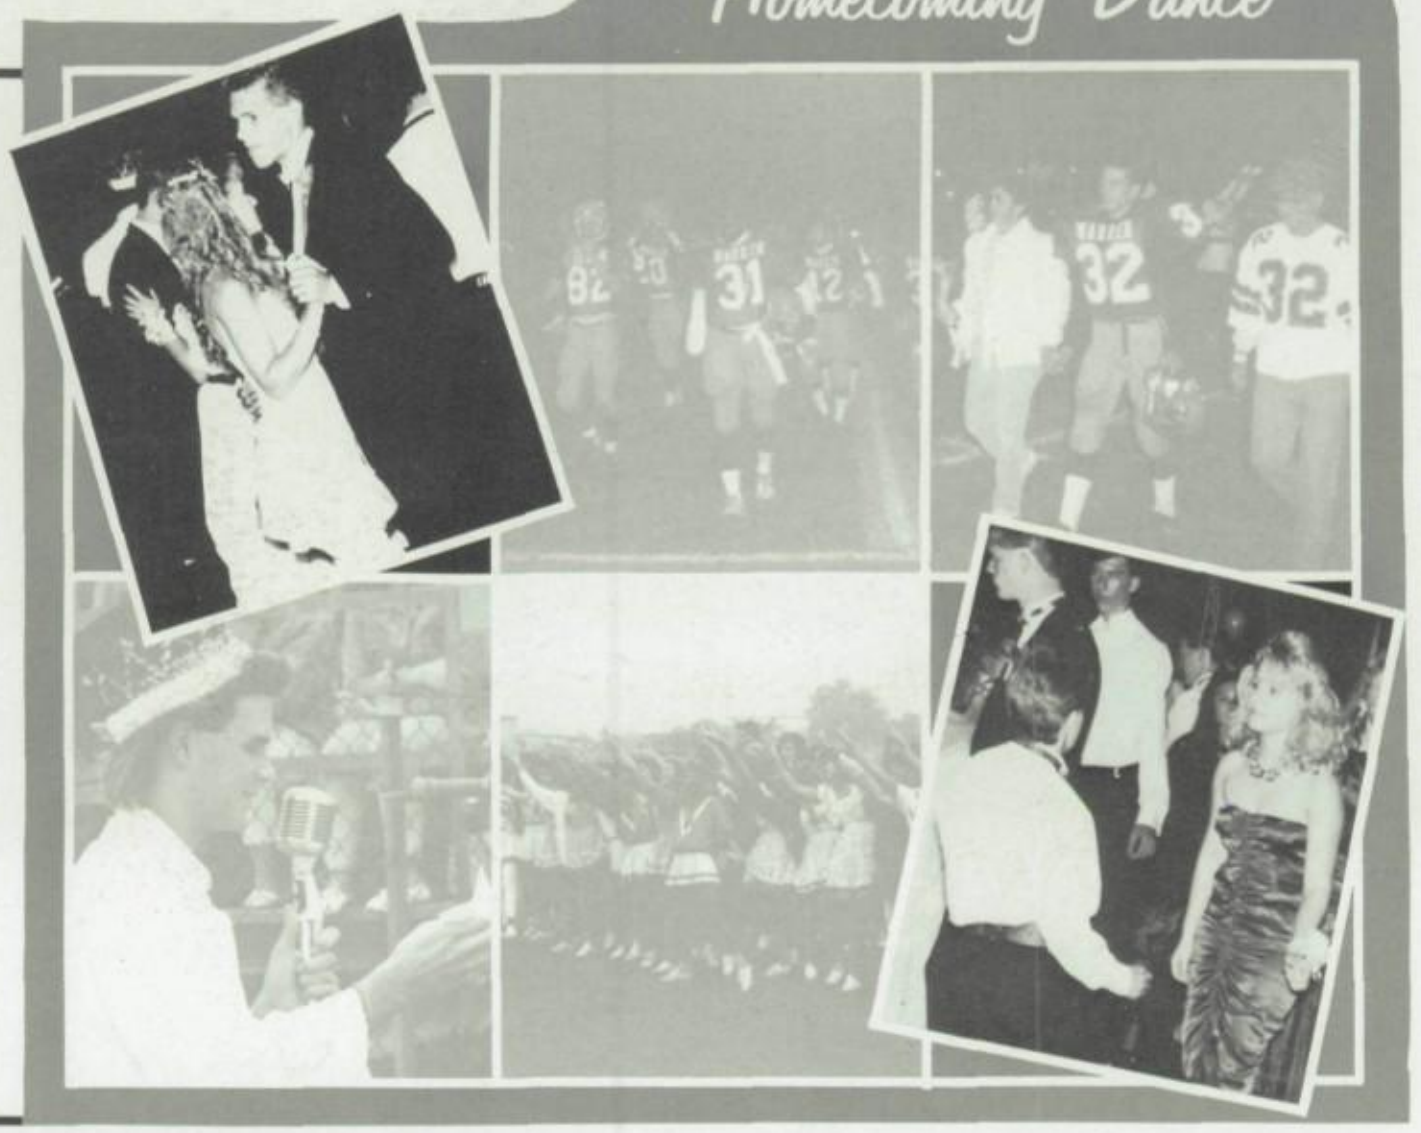
PLAYING

Homecoming Dance

It was meant to be a night to remember, filled with magic and excitement. But what happened instead was short of disasterous as the 28th annual homecoming dance was held at the Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim.

The student council planned on holding the dance in the Embassy Room but supposedly the overhead sprinklers accidentaly went on and flooded the whole room. Instead they set up the Marina Ballroom which looked like a banquet room since the dance floor was so small, it seemed to appear crowded all the time. When everyone thought nothing else could go wrong, the worse was yet to come. When Darius Turner and Jacquie Brown our 1987 Homecoming King and Queen were ready to dance to this years theme song "Can't we try" we all found out that the DJ didn't have a copy of it.

Even though the dance didn't go as planned, everyone was still able to enjoy themselves, by going to dinner and renting limos, and attending after dance parties.



ALWAYS A PRINCESS. Freshman princess, Cherrie Canning, slowly moves with her date to the surprise theme song "Always"

DANCE THE NIGHT AWAY. A couple seems to be enjoying each others company as they dance the night away.

"POPS GIRLS" Papa Joe takes Rosanna Panagiotou, Christy Bauer, and Ericka Fisher in his arms as he says "relax, there is enough of me to go around."

SLOWLY DANCING. Lisa Pareda and her date carry on a conversation as they slowly dance to a love song.

Duck Hunting Season OPENS!

Assembly

Friday Morning, Nov. 1, 1987; 10:00am; Justice Stadium. The morning sun radiated warmth down upon the congragated student body during the annual end-of-the-week pep assembly for that night's game against the Duck-Factory. Harvey Keller raised the massive crowd to its feet with the traditional "B-E-A-R fight fight fight!" cheer to begin the student council planned assembly. The entire Pep Squad, decked out in all white attire, moved and groved their way to the rythmn of "Mony Mony" using homemade pom-poms of varying color. The whole assembly was in jeopardy when a Duck found his way on campus and began to terrorize the student body. However, Crocodile "Duck-dee", portrayed by Kenny Green, quickly took control of the situation and hypnotized the vicious creature. After the football team was introduced by head-coach Hennigan, wide-receiver Tito Smith, who got the crowd howling with laughter as he performed his own rap-parody of how the Bears were going to kill Downey that night, was definately the highlight of the show.

HIT THAT PERFECT BEAT. As the band plays the song "Horse" Kim Ellingson gets ready to lead the percussion section in their drum solo.

ALOHA!!! Paula, Carolyn, Bea, Dena, Rosanna, Erika, & Viki show their spirit as they dress up in their finest Hawaiin outfits.

OH, YA!! The football team shouts out oh Ya! In reply to Tido Smith's rap about how easy they will beat Downey.

"LEND ME YOUR EAR." Coach Hennigan addresses the entire student body at the all-school assembly before the "Big-Game" that night against the troublesome Duck-Factory. After introducing the starting line-up, he proceeded to encourage the crowd to attend the city-rivalry game.

HOW LOW CAN YOU GO?? Can you believe it, during a class competition a freshman was successful in showing "how low he can go" during the limbo contest for Downey Warren week.

RAPPIN AGAIN. On the microphone, Tido Smith chants his rap made up especially for the Downey/Warren pep assembly. It was effective in getting our Varsity football team and crowd fired up and ready to roast the ducks.

"PSYCH!" Bobby, Alan, Brian, and Darius give a confident chuckle when they hear that Downey is favored to win the game that night. After a week of vigorous practice and mental preparation, these Bears know better than to believe such ridiculous rumors.

HAVE YOU GOT THAT SPIRIT? At the Downey Warren pep assembly, the Warren pep squad asks have you got that spirit? The crowd in return answers, Yeah Yeah!.

WHICH ONE IS HE?
Denise Boyles, as always is not boy-less. Is that Robert, Bill, Mike, or Peter?

HAVING FUN?
Everyone really seems to be enjoying themselves, at this years 87-88 Snow Blitz dance, which was held in our very own cafeteria.

SMILE FOR THE CAMERA!
This crowd looks like there having a great time as they say cheese, and smile for the camera.

JINGLE Bell Hop

Show Blitz

This years Snow Blitz fell upon December 11, 1987. Located in our cafeteria, it was festively decorated with christmas tree lights, balloons and streamers even santa made a special appearance to hand out candy canes and spread around the holiday cheer. Tripindicular sounds, made up of two students from Warren High Scott Edgworth and Rysty Shelton were the D.J's. They played lots of K-ROQ type of music as well as some funky tunes. Everyone commented on the great music and had a blast dancing to it all night. Pictures could also be taken of you and your date, courtesy of Pace Studios.

WHAT A DANCER!
Watch out Fred Astair, Pop says, as he shows Michelle Lamb how a real man dances.

DANCING LESSIONS?
Victor Perez trys to teach everyone the right way to dance, but no one can do it quite as good as Victor can.

Practice MAKES Perfect

Hardwork

A lot of students here at Warren High are engaged in extra curricular activities such as Basketball, soccer, baseball, track, swimming, water polo, football and last but not least, pep squad.

These students spend many long enduring hours practicing during and after school in order to reach perfection at it's most. Even though these students spend many hours of their time at practice they still must jaintain a 2.0 grade average. Which can sometimes be tough since almost all their homework time is used up at practice. Still, these students manage to keep up with their studies.

With all these duties, students learn alot about obligations and responsibilities, as well as about themselves.

Being on an extra curricular activity helps you appreciate school. Still sometimes the word "practice" can make you want to cringe.

A Shoulder To LEAN On

Friends

We are given many opportunities to make friends that will stay with us for life. However, we are often not able to garner more than one or two who will act as such. Any person who can say he has more than two true friends is, in the eyes of most, an extremely lucky individual. These friends frequently play an integral part of our lives. They provide us with companionship, support, someone to partly or play with ect But among the most important roles they play is that of being by our side when times are most troubling. Often we feel sad, lonely, or destitute which generates a strong need for the understanding and consolement that can be found only in our closest companions. This is when the true value of a friend is most appreciated.

We WENT All The Way

C.I.F.

The 1987-88 Varsity Basketball Team had high hopes for the upcoming season, but no one could have imagined how much was accomplished. After beating Downey in the Final Game of the season, there was a three way tie for first place between Warren, Downey, and Dominguez. As a result of the tie breaker, Warren went into CIF as a first place team. The first round was to be played at Warren against Claramont.

Clarmont, a team with mostly juniors, came in against Warren with a better record (15-8), although they were a third place team. Claramont rallied at the end of the game to make it close, but Warren prevailed 74-70 The second round would prove to be a much tougher task than the first as Warren was schedualed to play Semi Valley, the number 1 ranked team in the tournament. Semi Valley won the coin flip which meant the game would be played at a site near them. Warren made a game of it through the first three quarters, but Simi Valley proved to be too much to prevail

Although the Team's ultimate goal was to play in the LA sports Arena, they were proud of what they had achieved. All the hard work through the Spring and Summer climaxed to a terrific season.

B.E.A.R.S. ARE BEST.

Science Olympiad

On Saturday February 27th the Warren High School Science Olympid Team took first place in the 1988 Los Angeles County Regional Science Olympiad Finals. Sixteen High schools participated in competition. Every member of Warren's 15 member Team won a 1st, 2nd or 3rd place ribbon. Peter Chun, Vickie Lau and Tim Townsend, took 3rd place in the Sounds of Music. Douglas Swift, took 2nd place in the Rocks and Fossels. Max Jong, Jane Kang, Richard Kim and Cindy Parr, took 2nd place in the Pentathalon. Bennis Babusis, Steven Ju, Jerrry Krause and John Wang, took 2nd place in the Science Bowl. Matt Holley, took 1st place in the Periodic Chart Quiz. Matt also had a perfect score. Taku Otsuka and Radha Patel, took 1st place in the Water, Water Everywhere contest.

Benis Babusis and Matt Holley also placed quite high in the competition but were not medal winners in A is for Anatomy. Then Benis teamed up with Steven Ju in the Brodge Building contest, where they once again just missed winning a medal.

This was the first time Warren has entered a team in the Science Olympiad. Warren was first, Beverly Hills second and Egall Rock third. If you know any of Warren's team members, tell well done and good luck in the upcoming State Finals.

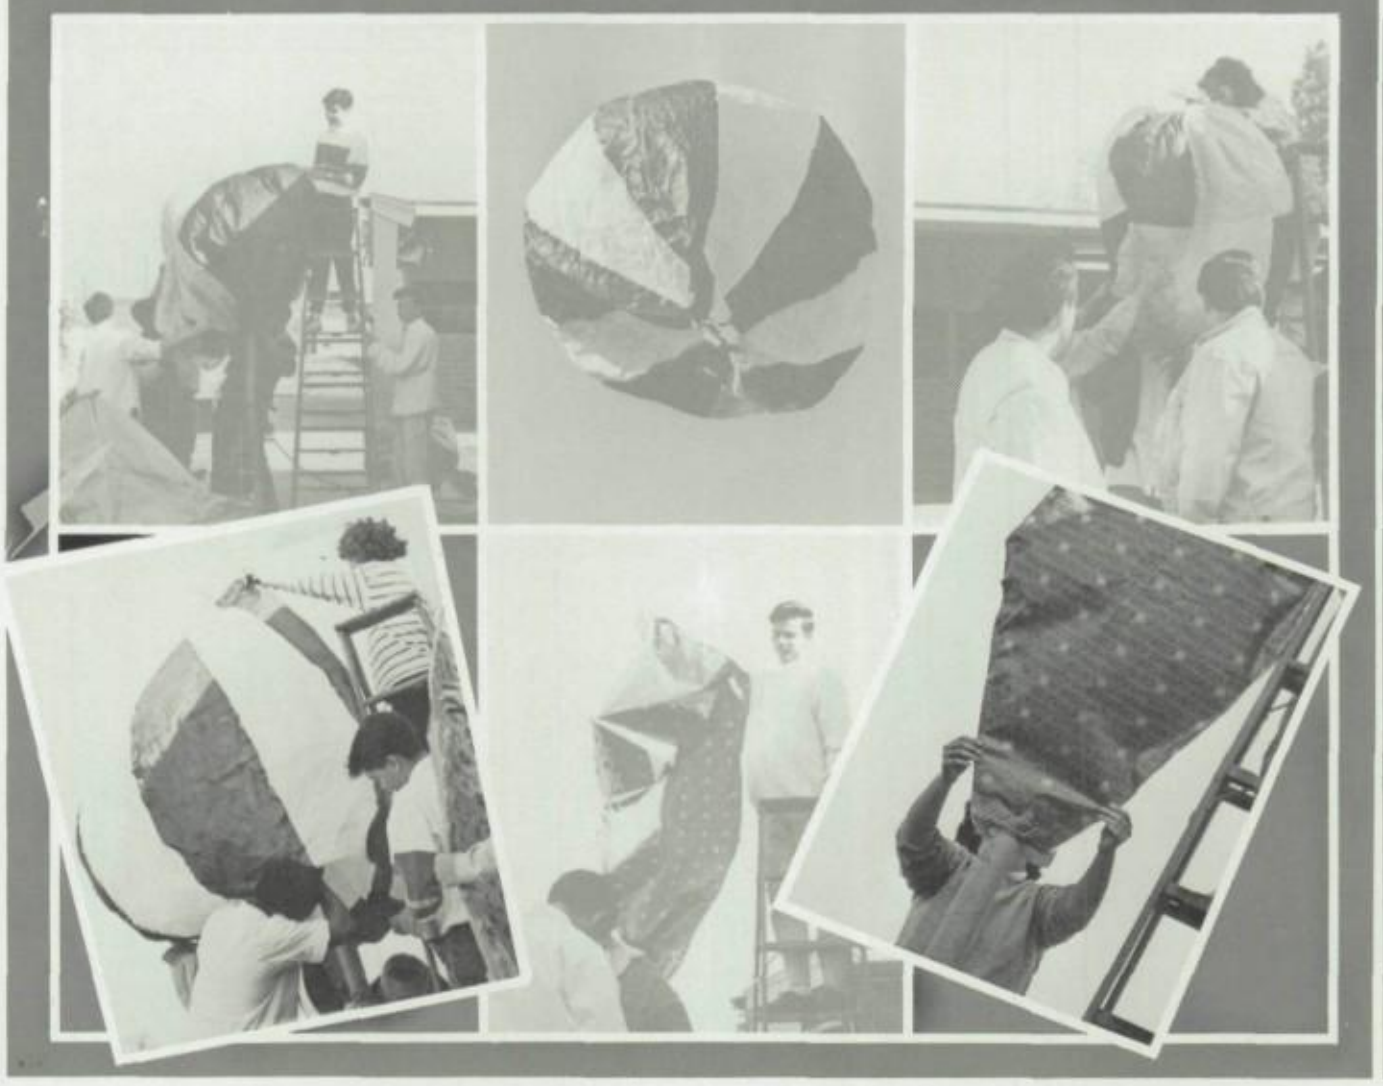
Balloons Were High FLYING



It all began on a clear and sunny day in the beginning of February. On this day Steven Ju, Jason Bajaj, and I decided to begin constructing a balloon made of tissue paper.

We easily agreed on a spherical design because a sphere has the highest volume to surface ratio, and we were well aware of the importance of volume in a hot air balloon.

The day of the contest arrived. We were surprised to find our group was the only one using a heat gun. Ten minutes passed and nothing was happening. None of us liked the idea of inflating our balloon conventionally, it meant being like the others and that was a terrible thought. However, when our turn came we began inlfating our balloon very carefully to avoid igniting the very inflammable, laqure coated material it was made of.

In a matter of minutes the balloon was inflated and heating well. Then we released the balloon, our "Ideal Gas Ball." Higher and Higher it went and slowly, the great balloon began rotating gently like a satellite until it was completely upside down.

What ever became of our balloon will probably never be known for sure. Rumors have it that "The Ideal Gas Ball" was seen freeing itself from the tree and then floating toward the heavens until out of sight. This has not however yet been confirmed.

-Benis Babusis

HOT AIR!
Students attempting to create a hot air balloon, puts helium in their balloon. Good luck.

HELP ME!
The balloon's going to crush me, screams Anthony Simmons to his friend and team mate, Jeff Gonzales.

LETS GET STARTED!
The Physics class had a hot air balloon project. Everyone seemed to really enjoy themselves but also seemed to be full of hot air.

OH NO!
Jeff Gonzales yells as his balloon starts to get stuck on the roof.

HEY DUDE!
Are you going to help me or not, yells Anthony Simmons to his team mate.

STUCK AGAIN.

Hi Ho Hi Ho, It's OFF TO WORK We Go

Jobs

Working and going to school is tough, but all in all working is something that unfortunately we all will experience in a lifetime. Besides being active with both school and friends at one point in time one will have to organize his or her time and -yes- become employed.

A job is a big responsibility!! It has its advantages and disadvantages. Some of the disadvantages are you can't be late, you can't fool around and it leaves you with very little time to study. Now for the advantages, at the end of every week you receive a check payable to yourself and you actually can say this is my money and I earned it.

Personally I do work and go to school at the same time. It gets hard occasionally but I got to keep my head up high and keep my priorities in line somehow that gives me the strength to do both.

SAY CHEESE!!! Jeniffer McCarthy picks out a cute outfit for a customer at Judy's in Stonewood.

PLASTIC OR PAPER? Brian Kerr takes a break from bagging to take a picture for our cameras.

MY HAND IS UP! Darius Turner waits patiently to be called on, to answer a question from the representatives.

I HAVE A QUESTION!!! Cherry Marshal questions a proposal on trash, and says what he thinks would work better.

TRSH = DJ! Will Nash explains his proposal on Trash = dj, which the representatives seem to like the best.

ARE WE READY? Student Council gets prepared, and pulls there ideas together before the summit meeting.

Students SPEAK Out

Summit

The Summit Meeting was presented by Student Council, with the help of Mr. Harcharick, March 8, 1988 in the gym. The room consisted of two representatives from every second period class. The meeting was held to make proposals to help clean up our campus, it was a big success. There were many different reactions, which helped student council make a decision on which was the best proposal.

Trash = D.J., was the proposal that the representatives thought would work the best. There would be four cans in the quad with different types of music put on them. The can that had the most trash at the end of the week, would get a D.J. at lunch, for that type of music. I am hopeful that this idea for the clean campus will go over very well.

THIS IS WHAT ITS ABOUT! Treigh Graves gets prepared to explain the way the summit meeting well run.

ONE MORE TIME! Mike Amaaral in nice manner, explains again the way his proposal would work.

NEW IDEAS! Student Council listens intently as more proposals are brought forth by the representative.

BREAK out the Sheets!

Sadies was a fun dance for the size of the crowd. It was pretty much a success. The people that came had a blast and some of the toga outfits were pretty outrageous. The letterwomen did a great job at putting it together. Shawna Walston, president of the Letterwomen's Club put a lot of her time and effort to put together the dance. Pictures were taken by Pace Studios as usual. Even though the theme was not liked by all, many people participated in the Toga idea. Tripindicular Sounds 'DeeJayed the dance with pretty good music. Many people paid a dollar and got married by Pastor Sam and got rings and Marriage Certificates for that bargain price. The kissing booth was occupied most of the night by the newly married couples. Over all, it was a fun dance and one to remember.

"GUESS WHO"

A GATHERING OF BEAUTIES! Gretchen Kessler, Shawna Walston, Gigi Hooghkirk, Susan Rabak, Debbie Canning, Melissa Minnix, and Holly Rivers, gather together and pose in a Greek style for our cameras.

"DANCING THE NIGHT AWAY" Robert Logan and Sharlene Choi dance the night away at our newly themed "Sadies goes Toga."

"SO CUTE" Roni Towers and Lou Sananikone pause a moment and pose for our cameras in their feastive Toga Attire.

"HOLD ONTO THOSE SHEETS!" Rusty Shelton holds onto Debbie Canning's sheets while they dance the famous Toga. The sheets aren't going to provide the balance for any fast dancing, however.

. . . To Be WEE

We, the underclassmen, or as I say the underpriviledged, stand together for these reasons. Each student makes becoming a Senior a challenge. We all go through changes.

To many students the word "freshman" means goofing off and having an excuse for it. To others it means forgetting about childish pranks and games and becoming the mature adults that parents and teachers have prepared them to become. Freshmen start to dream about taking their drivers education classes and about getting rid of their bottom lockers.

As Freshmen become Sophomores they seem to mature more in their views about life. They gain responsibilities when they receive their license and perhaps receive a car.

Juniors are at least the top of the underclass.

In their Junior year, some students become more concerned with their education and preparing for their Senior year, while others begin to party seriously!!! Juniors begin to think about their future; deciding if they can make it through high school let alone college. Some Juniors take the P.S.A.T. for the first time. This is almost as frightening as your driver's license test. Juniors have more opportunities as well as more responsibilities. They begin to prepare for their reign over the school as Seniors. They expect life as a Senior to be the way it was meant to be.

Within the underclass section you will find a variety of people. Each acting as an individual but together as a great group of students. The underclass makes up the majority of the people that attend Warren High. Take the time to get to know them a little better.

Phone Calls Provide Lifeline

As an underclassman, I spend my time talking on the phone as much as possible. When I'm not on the phone, I'm either at parties, a school activity or dance, or I'm over at my boyfriend's house spending time with him. When I'm at school, I'm either at club meetings, in the office, or hanging out with my friends at our table—talking and joking around and having a good time. On the weekends, I go to the movies on Fridays. On Saturdays, I either go to Knott's Berry Farm or ice skating, and on Sundays I kick back and talk on the phone or spend time with my friends.

Striving To Be Like Seniors

Basically, underclassmen do the same things that seniors do. We talk on the phone, work our tails off on homework, go to football games and McDonalds, go home late on Friday and Saturday nights, and of course, go to parties. There isn't a lot that underclassmen don't do that seniors do, except drive our own cars and take government. Underclassmen show up tardy to class just as much as seniors do and get sent up to Mrs. Saffell's office. So, basically, seniors and underclassmen do the same things.—Sean Corbett

Anything But Boredom

I don't know about everybody else, but I'd rather be doing anything as long as its not at home. I like to play sports so I won't be so bored, but most of the time I do stuff like go to the arcade and play my favorite game which is Galaga. It takes most of my time because I'm trying to better my best score which is 140,470. But then again, I like to ride my beach cruiser because if I don't have anything else to do it gets me in shape. Overall, it's hard to be a Freshman because people think you're really immature. —Becky Foster

Crazy And Creative Weekends

Since I do so many things during my spare time, it is really hard to say what I do most. First of all I really have no time during the week days so when the weekends come around, things really get going. Usually, about four of my friends and I get together and try to think of something to do that is really crazy. The fun weekends go by fast while the boring weekends go by slow. No matter what I do during my spare time I always try and be creative.

Spending Time With Friends

Most of the week, excluding Fridays and the weekends, I spend my time doing the overabundance of homework I am given. However, when the weekends come around, I like to relax and rid my mind of school. I usually spend my spare time with my friends. We usually go out and try to make the most of our two day "parole." Sometimes we go to the movies or just stay home and play a few hands of rummy. The movies and rummy usually wipe me out financially. When Sunday night rolls by, I sit in my kitchen and finish the homework I decided not to do on Friday and Saturday. Missing all the good shows except one, "Family Ties," I work feverishly trying to finish my homework. All I can hope for now is less homework and a student holiday the following week.

Life Is An Adventure

After a looney day at Warren High, underclassmen like to kick back and relax. We first rush to the kitchen for an afterschool snack (2 or 3 pizzas will do) Then off to our room! Boy! What an adventure, swimming through piles of clothes you finally make a nice homely nest, turn on the radio and sleep. We wake up at about 8:00 just in time for the Cosby show, We then attempt our Algebra homework UGH!!! By then it's way past midnight, we go to the kitchen, eat the leftovers and go to bed. — Mersee Adams

Getting Weird And Crazy

In my spare time, I like to spend it with friends, but sometimes I like to spend it alone, too. If I spend it with my friends, we would usually get each other in a crazy mood. Once we get into one of our moods, there's no telling what we'll do next.

When I'm by myself, I usually like to eat and watch T.V. or listen to the radio and get weird in the mirror. Sometimes I'll pretend to be an actress and act out my little scenes.

Freetime Is Very Fleeting

What do I do with my free time? Free time? Could someone define freetime for me? There is hardly a time when I have absolutly nothing to do. Most of the time it's homework, homework, homework. That's all I seem to do—even on weekends—Biology notes to study, Spanish work to finish, and even Alegebra II!! But, yes, there are those fleeting moments commonly called free time. When those moments come around you'll find me practing in Jujitsu class, or I might be found playing the piano, and on Friday nights in the Fall you'll see me at most of the games, for sure the Downey—Warren game. My free time is well spent, for I don't have too much to squander these days.

Countdown To Friday

The weekends are the best because that is when all of my school worries are put to rest. I can now make my own schedule. I usually get together with my friends on Fridays and just hang out, maybe play a few hands of gin, and then discuss what tests we have bombed over the week . . . On Saturdays, I can usually be found in the local theater, checking out the latest flick, or in Sam Goodie's. I usually like to keep up to date on my music. By the time Sunday hits, I start to consider doing some of my homework, I open my trusty bag and I search for my 121bs Algebra 2 book, but it is not there. I also look for my ancient English book, but it has also vanished into thin air. My friend reminds me about the "killer" test tomorrow and he also is kind enough to inform me of the Reading exam in Mr. Allgood's class. I suddenly remember that both books are sleeping in my locker at school. It is the weekend for them too. My friend lets me borrow his book because now I have to copy the whole story on the nearest copier. There goes my spare change! Sunday starts out pretty gloomy, but I'm thankful that Friday is only 5 days away. —Brian Adair

Leading Different Lives

Some underclass students spend their time wisely while others just do anything that comes to their minds. Some students spend their time watching TV and listening to their stereos while few others prepare themselves for tests such as the pre SAT after finishing their assignments. Some spend their time after school with their sports while others just hang around with their friends. Those who have jobs, work and study, while getting straight A's. A few others do not even take their books home knowing they are assigned homework but not intending to do it. Every underclassmen has his own life to lead as he pleases, but in general this is what underclassmen do in their free time. —Samuel Ha

All Work Not Enough Play!

As an underclassmen, I do a variety of things in my spare time. I certainly don't have very much spare time at all this year and that is because of all the homework I have every night. I get an enormous amount! After I'm finished or in between assignments, I could be doing other things. I might be practicing the piano or taking a voice lesson. Maybe I'm at Warren's football game or dance. If it's a weekend my friends and I might be catching a movie or going out to lunch, and of course I'll be watching "Moonlighting" every Tuesday night!!!! I think that I do just about what half the Sophomore class does . . . too much homework, and not enought free time.

Weekend-Best Part Of Week

Homework, that is the one word that tells about my weekdays. Hours and hours of algebra, Spanish, and that dreadful reading from our English books given to us by none other than Mr. Allgood himself.

The best part of the week is definitely the weekend. The weekend starts when a big smile comes to my face as the 2:35 bell rings on Friday, and Spanish is over. After packing up my books, I head for one of my friends houses to mess around and play some cards. I then come home to clean up for the football game that night. Go Bears!! When Sat. roles around, I finally have a chance to sleep in. All I think about is all the homework I have to do. But then I feel relieved for I still have tomorrow. Saturday is a day of recooperating from that strenous work of school, and to watch my favorite college football team, UCLA, get another tally mark in the win column on their way to the Rose Bowl. Finally Sunday is a day of cleaning up. Cleaning up my room, then "cleaning up" at gin with my friends, and cleaning up all that dirty homework given to me on Friday.

After I finish all my homework, and Monday rolls around again, it's back to the same old thing, that dreaded word "SCHOOL." —Jon Clifford

Becoming An Upperclassmen

Underclassmen enjoy doing many things. They like going to school dances, football games, parties, and just being with good friends. They discover a whole new world when they get behind the wheel of a car and they realize the adult world that lies ahead of them when they receive their first job. These things are all new but also very enjoyable and knowledgeable. The one thing that underclassmen enjoy the most though, is looking forward to a prospective future and finally becoming a mature upperclassmen. —Peggy Christidis

Survival Of The Underclass

The underclassmen of this school do a lot for this school. They help with activities, and have a lot to do with sports. Without the underclassmen the school could not survive. Probably, and most importantly, the underclassmen do their homework, they are always striving to get good grades for college. —Marian Carter

Normal People Party!!!

What is spare time? I have not had any spare time since dreaded high school began. Homework, and more homework, that's all there is to life now. Biology notes to be written, math homework on the weekends, and last minute reading for our book reports. Now does that sound very exciting? No way! What normal person enjoys studying on the weekends? I think work, should be left in the classrooms and not be continued at home. No homework would leave us some time to PARTY!! —Kim Gauthier

Underclass Does Same Thing As Seniors

To pass our time, we underclassmen have a vast variety of things to do. Personally, I like to chat on the phone for a few hours by calling everyone in my little handy-dandy phone book. After I run my phone bill up to $50, I turn on my radio and get out a magazine or book. I also love to go to the movies with my friends and go shopping. We underclassmen do basically the same things as seniors.

Underclass Enjoy Clubs

Being an underclassman, I have a very busy schedule. Much of my free-time during the weekdays is devoted to volunteer work for clubs or homework. As a Sophomore, clubs have become a big part of my life. Four out of five of my lunch periods are devoted to clubs. On the weekends I am always up to something. My Fridays usually consist of either a football or basketball game. Saturday is my day of rest and relaxation. I usually awake around noon or so and sit around until three. By four, I've got a plan for the night. My night usually involves a movie or a party, or hanging around with Marcus. Sundays are for recovering from Saturday and preparing for Monday. — Brian Doubleday

Underclassmen Spend Parents' Money

Underclassmen spend their time going to parties talking on the phone, spending our parents money on clothes and junk while seniors make the big decision for their life about going away to college or living at home with brothers and sisters who are brats. Underclassmen don't have to waste their time with such thoughts, only worry about classes and assignments and Friday Nights games and who is seeing whom. Ah well! — Kheesa Slaughter

Underclass Dance, And Forget At Knott's

Some of the ways that underclass students spend their time is by going to Knotts Berry Farm in other words, "Studio-K," or "Cloud-9". They go there to have fun, dance, relax, and forget about all the pressure they've been under all week. Another way underclassmen try to enjoy themselves is by going out to play some sort of sport with their friends. They may also practice some cheers or something if they're on a pep-squad. These are some of the many things underclass students do. —Cathy Ballon

Having Fun Is What Freetime Is All About

My freetime is my own - nothing but time on my hands to do with as I please. I don't want to think about homework. I don't want to believe in teachers. I don't want to worry about grades. I just want to have fun - and lots of it.

It doesn't really matter what I'm doing when I'm not in school, just so long as I have a good time. It doesn't matter if I'm with a group of my friends terrorizing society or by myself relaxing in front of the T.V. at home. There's always a decent reason for everything I do - it's based on seeing how much fun I can have. After all, life is short enough and while two more years at this institution seems like a long time, I'm not fooled. I understand the game, but I'm not one of those people who play and just let life go by while waiting for something "better" to come along. I live for now, I pray for tomorrow. And in between both - I have the best possible time I can. That's what spare-time is all about.

TIME TO BUY AND SELL

Advertisements are a bigger part of the yearbook than many people think. They aren't just places in Downey that want their name and/or picture in our yearbook hoping to influence people to come to their business. Advertisements are a very important part of the yearbook. Without them the price of the yearbook would be higher and we couldn't have any special designs. We are grateful to those businesses who have purchased ads. Now to show our thanks please thumb through the advertisement section. Look at them more carefully because these are the loyal patrons who help us please you by donating their good money to our desperate cause.

Student Advertisements also play a big part in the yearbook. Those who purchased Student Ads are also donating their money to help create a better yearbook. Student Ads give parents and students a chance to tell either their children or friends just how they feel and all the good times they've shared together. Student Ads run in 8 different sizes beginning with a $10.00 square. Some people think this is too expensive, but you can't put a price on family and friends. Most of all you can't put a price on an Awesome El Oroso! We would like to thank you again for your support on the 1987-1988 El Oroso.

To: my best friend, Patty(Milton),
I really can't tell you what a blessing it is to have you as my best friend. Like all, we've had our ups-n-downs and yet we've still got through them all. Since 7th gr. we've been friends and watched eachother change and grow-up into 1/2 way mature adults. Can you believe all of the fun, crazy, EMBARASSING times we've had together. Just to name some of the highlights- mgc. min., d-land, pushing Tracy's bug "I can't find reverse", ad runs, illegal lunches, yrbk deadlines, phone calls/lisa', T Ping Tracys house, melting Snavely, Jean K, letting me drive "CYNTHIA!", reservations, Europe 1st class, Hawaii, C2 Yuki, teaching me how to drive a stick almost ending up on the crub', Wendys 'small frosty', poems, "what time is it?", "Only 4hr. 31min. & 6sec.", hate-birds & feet, and the latest my verbal thinking process. I'm so glad that your my best friend. Our friendship will never end, it'll always grow in a special way. We have more fun and embarasing times ahead of us to fulfill. WATCH OUT WORLD! Thanx for always being here for me when I've needed a friend. HAY and don't you ever give up on your hopes and dreams(S.H.). Me and Jimmy 2-gether4-ever, no matter what! 2yr & 8mo.-so far. Best friends till the end! I love you!

Judy. Well our senior year is almost over and the past 3 yrs. knowing you have been great. You are the greatest friend that I've ever had so much fun and had a lot of sad times but no matter what happened we got through them. I'm glad I know that I could really talk to you about anything without having to worry about you saying anything. I know that after we graduate we will remain Best of Friends Forever. You know that I'm always here for you and I care for you a lot so don't ever forget. Love Always, Terri (Chorizo)

Terri, Thanks 4 always being there when I needed to talk. 4 listening to the problems Tim & I had. 4 all the bad & good times. Specially in San Felipe with the confusing name of "Tommy" & the Little Kid. I can still remember how it all began. It was on your presentation and during all the renersals. Ever since it's been GREAT. "Camp 86", Golf-N-Stuff on my B-day when I tripped. Hope we can still be best of friends when I'm going back to Mex. You must visit my Beauty Salon (Future Dream) and maybe you'll see Ernesto again, I hope I do. Stay sweet and thanks for being w/me in the scariest time - Aug. 87.

The Gang's All Here!

This, our senior year, was the year we had "The Time of Our Lives". Although our friendship started back with VB, Dana, the three C's of sex, the V, and GEMCO!, it was during this year we became even closer. Can't forget our favorites! Wellington, Allgood, and Momma Gus w/ her journals! Then came Doty and it got worse! But this year was the best! from DD to DD to DD, our weekends were the best! Don't ever forget Feb. 4th, the night we waited for 4 hours to see HIM! (sigh); the movie club, DD, New Year's and cops, champange, FK, LBoH, TMA, TNB and DD again! where will we go now? where else!?, Lakewood Warehouse, Good Morning V, and on and on...Jen goes to Texas, Jean goes to Mam, and P stays home! (oh well); EARTHQUAKES! and fires in the photo lab while shooting Cherries Jubillee!, the beautiful man! U Can Look (but you'd better not touch) and all men are NOT created equal! (definately); Golf-n-Stuff (our balls got stuck!), Fball & Bball games, The Den (come on! get rowdy!), afterwards ⟶ to McD's, beware the McD Queen!, P goes to S.F. (FUN FUN FUN!), No. 1 & No. 2 (where's the other one?), P's always late anyways, Beep Beep (HI!), what do we do for an encore? - there's 1/2 a year left! (HA!), etc..

Gina, Cindy, Becky (Blime), & Stef - we'll miss you! Sorry about vague messages and the 5 days of Christmas at the drive thru!; Ahn - we'll never forget "gig". Well, we're the best of friends and maybe if we all find hunks at least we won't have to share P.S.! Here's to the future at UBC, CSULB, and SDSU! We may be far apart from each other but our memories & will keep us together forever.

THANKS FOR MAKING THIS YEAR "THE BEST". LOVE PEBBLES.

Once Upon a Time, there was A Bear and A Slime. . .

Dear Slimey
Remember how it all started? I was so goofy and you were so tolerant of my goofiness. Little did we know we would become so close out here we are! still speaking to each other after everything we've been through. And that's quite a lot, just look ▶: D.L. (yes! we'll be your guinea pigs!), Dana and VBall, GEMCO jokes, and the 3 C's of S-E-X!, Top Gun and Billy Joel in concert, our waiter's name was Juan!? (J/K), those weird guys in the car who followed us so we pulled into the church parking lot and hid in the office until they went away! (Ooooo! Scary): Palm Springs and Agnes (of God), your first time at Police camp! (Very Scary), George's killer Bball workouts (ug!), Algebra II with whatshername?-the lady on the crutches, y'know: EARTHQUAKES! (Super Scary) and Shakespeare tests (Scariest of all!), the Ramones, Father Don, Belching Contests, "Green is your color!", Lunches in J-1 and Newspaper Deadlines, JEA Conventions, and so on and so on

You were, are, and always will be the best part of me, Slimey. I never had to worry about who I was when I was with you cause you made me feel special. You just let me be myself. All the times I wanted to give up on our friendship what was I thinking!? Now that we have to go our separate ways, the time I spend away from you will be kept bright with the memories of what we were: A Bear and A Slime, the best of friends. May all your dreams come true and may all your days be filled with the kind of love and happiness you touched my heart with. I'll miss you most of all.
Friendship, Love, and Laughter Forever,

A Bear

Well Bear, I guess we have reached that time in our lives in which some people would call "the beginning of the end." Because of your never ending friendship, the last four years have been very special. You always said, "Slime your the only person who could ever put up with me." Well Paula (Bear), I know your the only person who not only could put up with me, but understands me as well. I wish you the best of luck for all the years to come. Thanks for all those great times we had, I'm sure we'll have many more. Take care. Love Ya!

Dearest Cindy,
U really mean alot to me cuz u're the greatest friend I've ever had. We've seen each other grow from little kids to mature young ladies. Like all good friends we've had our happy, sad, fun, & embrassing times. But if I could change the past the only thing I would change is becoming friends sooner. We've been good friends already 4 more than 6 years and it's going stronger than ever. Our school years R almost over. No more Ad-ruite. No more trying to explain to Mrs Arata that that's what we were really doing. No more crowded hallways, etc. But just cuz school is almost over, it doesn't mean our friendship or adventures R going to end. Always remember that I'll always be here 4 U, that I really care alot, and that I ♥ U.

Jen, You are so fun to be with. I hope we never [illegible] that seal [illegible] just read. have a phone so we can talk

Jen, So many nights you've helped me thru my sadness + problems. Have fun + Good Luck. Thank you!
Russell M., ?
I ♥ you ☺

Darius-
Can you believe we're actually leaving? We've been thru so many memories!! Remember: 8th grade, BERB!!!, Hell Week, bein' your slave EVERY year for Downey / Warren week, Our senior year? The best ever! football season: all your T.D.'s just for me!, all yourrecruiters coming to see you!, No matter what - thru thick and thin - we've been special friends!! Thanx for everything! Don't forget me (or else!) Our futures?... Washington and then pro football for you, for me-- UCLA!!!???, Carm, bein' your manager, and my BABY YELLOW CARRERA CABRIOLET!!!!!!!!!! Lyni and "D"--best buddies forever!!
-Carolyn

Georgia,
Gosh we've known each other forever, but it's too bad that it took us a long time to really become close friends. Let's see, it all started at McDonalds. Exchanging info & problems away about our mixed up lives! Then came Feb. 6; what a night of surprises! "Georgia, stop talking!" & "Jen, I could have died!" "Oh Jen, I don't know how he feels!" The screaming we did during and after the Basketball games. Houlihans on ♡ day FBLA - Fresno conf. Good Luck in UCSB Thank you for all the advice and help on everything. And thanx most of all, for being "my ~~big~~ sis!

Jen,
There is so much to say
You've been such an encouragement to me in this last year. Never forget our long talks, Feb. 6 - "any closer and I'll jump between you" "Don't stop till U get enough!" "I get weak" "Can stay away from U". Spoons, Houlihans, The Valentine's day bet - I Won! My "x" and your "u". Love you lots, Georgia!

Jeff: I Love You even though you drive me crazy sometimes. Remember: "For You, the world!" May all your dreams (real and Fantastical) come true. Love, Paula

YOU'VE FOUND A FRIEND IN ME CLASS OF 88'

OUR FIRST DITCH DAY WE MADE IT THATS COOL

The highschool years are over and its time to move on. We become the BEST of friends any-one could ever have. Always being there for eachother whether its about boyfriends, family or just wanting a friend. We've been through so much and stuck together. Never holding back, telling eachother whats on our mind and taking it in as consructive criticism. We'll always be together, through thick and thin. We have discovered TOGETHER the true meaning of friends. KRISTY, GRETCHEN, CHRIS

DEAR Kid,

EXCUSE ME, but what ASILE IS THE CANDY ON. I'M SURE YOU ASKED ME THAT A FEW TIMES WHEN I WAS A BOX boy "REMEMBER". WELL YOU FINALLY MADE it YOU'RE A SENIOR!!! GEE I THOUGHT THE ANTI-CHRIST WOULD GET THERE BEFORE YOU BECAME A SENIOR. Oh WELL ON WE GO → CONGRADULATIONS ON YOUR GRADUATION. I WISH YOU THE BEST IN THE WORLD. I HOPE ALL YOUR DREAMS & WISHES COME TRUE. THANKS A LOT SWEETPEA, THANKS FOR THE SMILES, THE LAUGHS, THE TEARS, THE FEARS, THE UP'S, THE DOWNS, THE GOODS, THE BADS, BUT MOST OF ALL THANKS FOR ALL THE LOVE WE SHARED TOGETHER I HOPE WE CAN CONTINUE TO SHARE THAT FOR A LONG TIME. I'VE WATCHED YOU GROW KID & THANKS TO ME YOU TURNED OUT PRETTY DAMN GOOD, NO THANKS TO YOU. J.K. WELL I WISH YOU THE BEST AND I HOPE YOU NEVER FORGET THE LAST YEARS WE'VE SPENT TOGETHER. I'VE LEARNED A LOT & I'M SURE YOU DID B. BUT THE CLASS of 85 IS MUCH BETTER THAN 86!

To Sha-Roin and Kayci,
I dedicate my poem to you.
Friends Forever and Always.

As Time Goes By

Relations bloom
And relations die,
Among true friends
We tell no lies.
With the crowd
You wear a mask,
Taking it off
May be a task.
As time goes by
We all grow older,
As friendships bond
We all grow bolder.

Love ya!

SHERRI,
WELL THE YEARS ALMOST OVER AND WHEN IT IS I'LL BE GONE. I WISH I DIDN'T HAVE TO LEAVE YOU BEHIND. YOU MEAN THE WORLD TO ME SHERRI. WE'VE HAD OUR UPS AND DOWNS IN LIFE, BUT WHAT COUPLE DOESN'T. WE'VE BEEN TOGETHER OVER A YEAR NOW, BUT IT ONLY SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY THAT WE FIRST MET. ALOT HAS HAPPENED BETWEEN THEN AND NOW AND SO MUCH WILL HAPPEN IN THE YEARS TO COME. THIS AD IS MY WAY OF SAYING I LOVE YOU AND ALWAYS WILL.

LOVE ALWAYS,

A PATH OFTEN WALKED. Quads are an expected part of any campus. Our Olive tree centrally located in the crossing of our quad offers shade each day during passing periods and snack times as well as giving memories to every Senior who has passed through our halls.

We Took The TIME

The end of this year is going to be somewhat different from previous years, in that students will not be set free from this institution until Friday, June 17th, whereas in the past we only had to continue to suffer through Thursday of the final week. Even Seniors will be expected to show up on Friday to pick up their diplomas. No doubt there will be several diplomas lying on someones' desk for quite awhile from those seniors who forgot to come back or forget to pay those various debts they owe for uniforms, library books or candy sales. Check out cards will be issued for the first time to help catch Seniors who choose to forget these obligations. Fortunately, Seniors were still not expected to take Finals at the end of this year, although some administrators have threatened all year that this was going to be the year that teachers had to give finals to seniors once again. Some of the Senior Activities, that take place during finals week, include a skating party, a movie and a hypnotist show. Of course, there will also be a Baccalaureate, Graduation Ceremony and the traditional "Grad Night" at Disneyland. But enough of this. June is here. Although at times we felt it would never arrive. Face it, the last five minutes of any Economics class can seem like an eternity to a senior who's ultimate daydream centers around the desire "to get out". And to the lowly freshman, with three long, agonizing years left, having survived this first terrible year is nothing short of a major victory. Yet all of us, at one time or another, realized to some extent that realistically speaking - it was all over before it even began. The routine merely served as a guideline to keep us from going over the edge in our quests for fun and adventure. And no matter what we did, we always took the time to do it our way.

From football games and Downey/Warren week to CIF Basketball fever; from earthquakes

BABY BEARS:
Shirley Chung, the baby bear mascot and Coach Carter's little boy, Brian flash us a big smile.

SADIES GOES TOGA?
Some students decided not to borrow Mom's sheets for their costumes. They dressed alike in the traditional Sadies mode.

RAINY DAYS:
The Quad is deserted when students must seek shelter from the rain during lunch. In May???

To PREPARE For '89

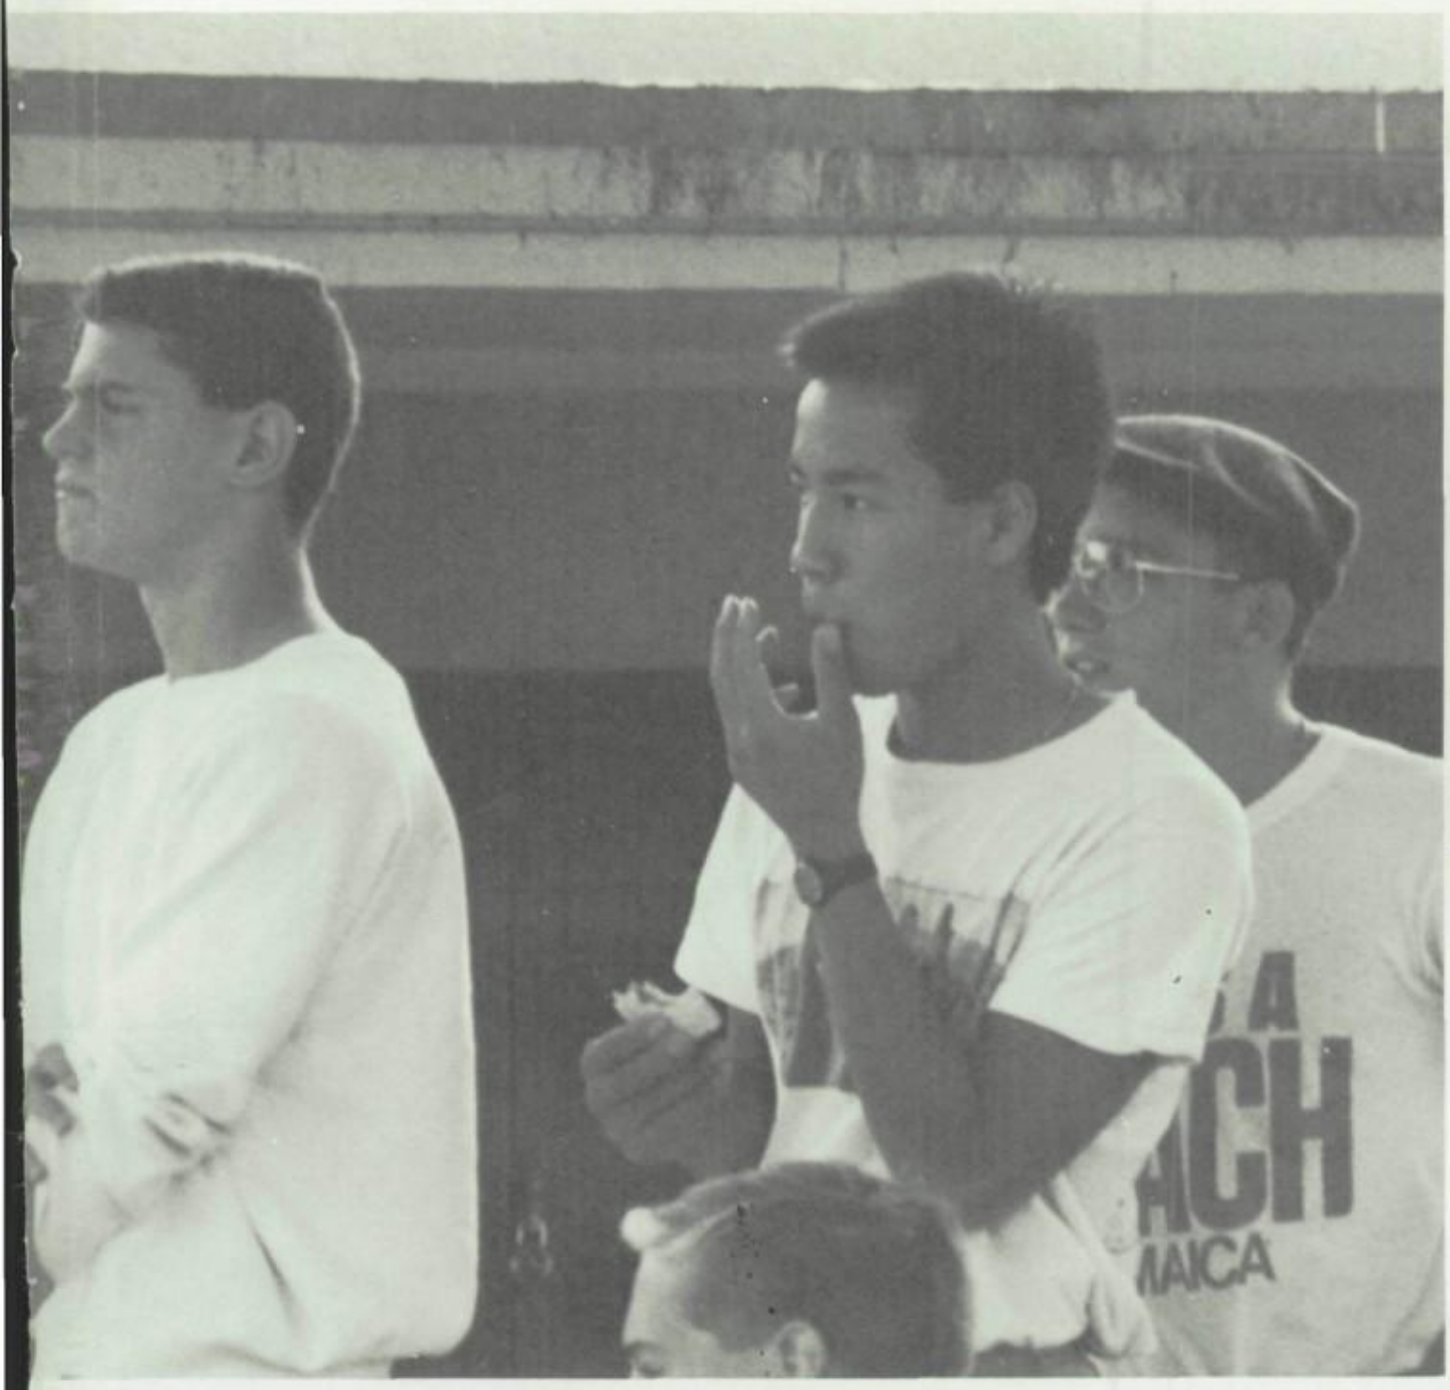
yearbook/newspaper deadlines; from Homecoming to the Rocka Hula Luau - the only thing that made us unique was our unquenchable spirit to have fun while we strived to be the best. It was the only thing we took the time to be — AND WE ARE!!!

We Took The TIME, El Oroso 1988, Volume 32 of the Warren High School yearbook was printed by Josten's/American Yearbook Company, Road 84 & Mineral King Highway 198, Visalia, CA 93279. Using our traditional format (9 x 12'') we tried to do some new things with the 288 page space provided. 1200 copies were sold beginning at $30. Our cover set and dictated the theme established by Jennifer Holmes and shot by Natalie Land with artwork provided by Brenda Higginson. Theme pages utilized 100% and 30% T-285 spot color and Grey with Black and White pictures instead of the usual Color. Michelle Halbmaier and Jennifer Holmes directed that. Student Life, Seniors, Clubs, Faculty, and Sports tried a new graphic look by introducing ways of using type to give life to Headlines; adapting the essence of ideas from other yearbooks, local newspapers, and magazines; and even summoning up a little creativity. Thanks to Tracy Thomason, Dawn Riggs, Christy Bauer, Denise Boyles and Brenda Kemp respectively. Index even got a new look this year in spite of not being able to alphabetize everything within categories. At least Denise Boyles made sure all the elements for each category stayed together — you win a few, you lose a few.

THAT FACE!
Lori LeGros gives us a look of confusion as she waits for her picture to be taken for Senior Class Favorites.

Our businesses that support our efforts through their ads really came through this year as did the students and parents who provide the student ads. We barely had space enough in the 30 pages set aside to provide for all of them let alone any special copy for each DPS — next year . . . Cindi Smith and Patricia Martinez were the go-getters in this department with 11 new ads each. Yeh!

We hope you see that We Took The TIME.
WILL YOU?

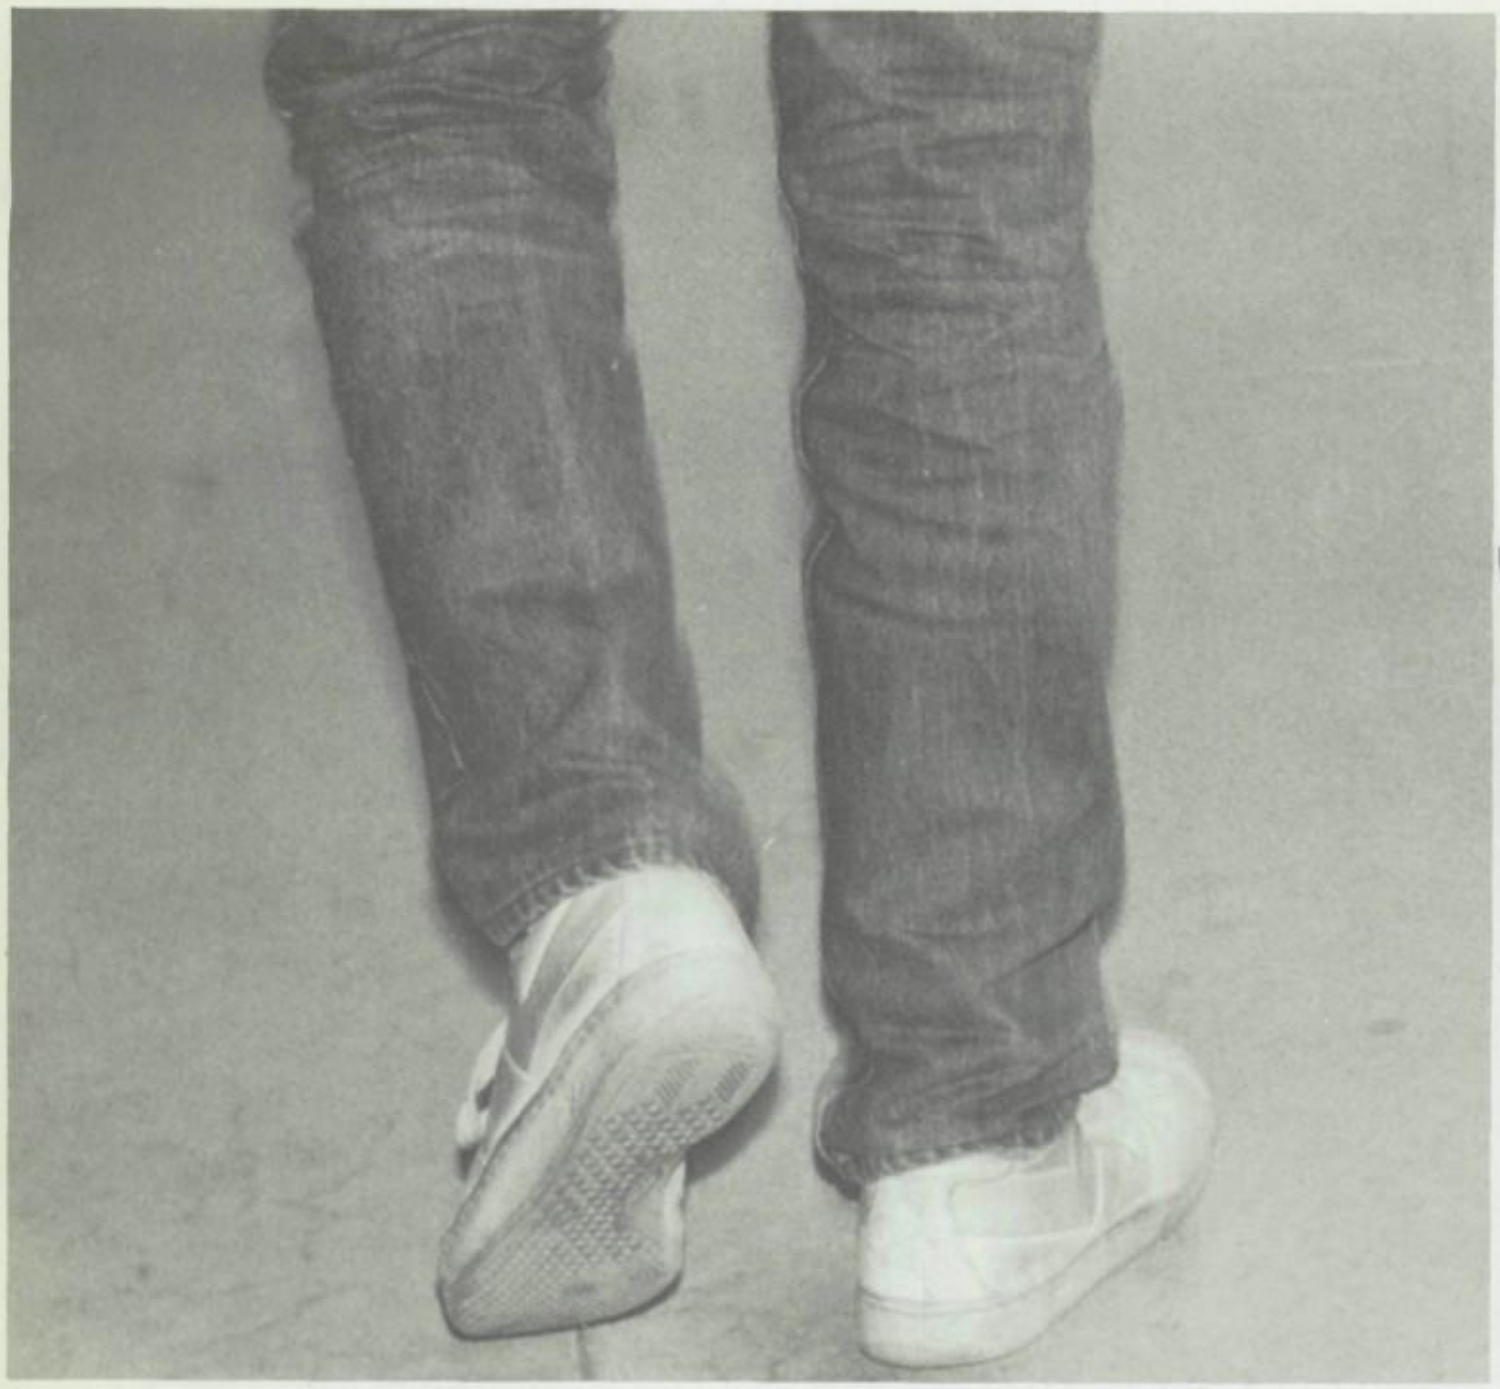


LET'S MEET IN THE SUN.
Doug Adrews, Harvey Keller, and Chris Hyatt meet w/Dave Eichenger and Bob Cape for a relaxing luncheon meeting.

HOW DO THEY DO THAT?
Sean Corbett, Ahn Pham and Rory Hester are caught wondering at a pep assembly how cheerleaders can kick their legs up so high without screaming in agony.

WHAT A CUTIE!
Kelly Brockman stops to give us a smile and a wave before getting back to her cheerleading.

STOP BITING YOUR NAILS!
Kenny Bonn is caught worrying about important world affairs.



JUST NORMAL ROUTINE
Peter Prajin proceeds to class at close of Snack.

DON'T JUST WALK AWAY!
As you leave Warren High this year take the time to remember all the good times you've had.

PEACE!
Jason Gwin, A.K.A. Robin Hood, gives us a sign of the times.

BEAR HUGS!
Ever heard of duck hugs? No! Bear hugs say congratulations, it's going to be all right, or goodbye. So, here's a hug ... Goodbye!

Hue-Way,

Heya Honey. This is it Babe. I can't believe all of the things we've been through in the short time I've known you. Well I'm just glad that we're friends and you came back to graduate with us. Just think of all of the fun we're going to have or glad mite yah.

Hey Sexy Mama
this is me, co-exercise!
Wellin so glad that we became such great
B-buds! 'cause me(oops), thanx Drewsy and we-way are the best of buds, ill alway remember all our silly times, and all the dudes, (oh so many)
Now were going to have a lot of more memories to look forward to but ass-that really matters is that we did it together forever and ever us B-buds, Senior breakfest (them nuny eggs) and the wienie butt that 'earns. oh well!
congratulations graduates

Dawn!
why did you have to leave? It was so fun having you in Ecor. if it wasn't for you, I would have died of boredom. Isn't mr. Coleman such a fag. I hope you had fun at your other school, but I am glad you came back now.

love ya,
Rory Corrigan

Dawn.
Im Regret not talking To you much. this year, Hopefully will be able to get together over the Summer.
Enjoy your Summer.
